$7 Million Dormitory Ok'd for SIU-SW

1000 Students to be Housed in Complex; Bonds to be Sold

A $7.2 million dormitory project for 1000 students at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus was approved unanimously Tuesday afternoon by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Housing will be available to all undergraduate and graduate students, a diversion from a recommendation made by Dr. Lyman A. Glenny, executive director of the board, and his staff, which limited use of dormitory space to juniors, seniors and graduate students.

The restriction was removed to permit the university to fill the dormitories in case they are not filled by upperclassmen and graduate students, according to Dr. John Rendleman, SIU-SW vice-president for business affairs.

The board did recommend, however, that the dormitories be limited to upperclassmen and graduate students if possible, he added.

Plans were made for separate units to house men and women in the complex.

Also eliminated from Glenny's staff study was a provision requiring bonds for the dormitories to be paid in the first five years of operation, Rendleman said. The project is to be financed through the sale of revenue bonds.

The board retained recommendations to limit the number of students using dormitories to 1000 and to charge a rate no larger than for similar dormitories at the Carbondale SIU campus.

Construction is not expected to start until late fall or in the spring of 1969, and may be completed for use in 1970 "if we're lucky," Rendleman said.

According to the Glenny study, about 12% of the present students now are living away from home, many in substandard private residences.

The dormitory complex is the second housing unit approved for the local campus. Construction of 250 apartments for married students and staff members was approved by the board last November.

Construction of the apartments is expected to begin this summer, with the first units opening in the fall of 1969.

Vacant House Along Highway Path Burns

A vacant house at 2904 Oak street, in the right-of-way of FA Route 151, caught fire at 2:45 a.m. today, firemen reported. As it was owned and condemned by the state, no loss estimate was listed. The cause was unknown. Firemen were at the scene 45 minutes.

Firemen also were called to a house owned by Anna Acquaviva and occupied by Mrs. Mary K. Hahne, 1923 Grand avenue, at 11:10 p.m. Wednesday when a furnace blower motor became overheated. There was no loss.

MARINE GARY SKAGGS
Wounded in Vietnam

GC Mother Sees Wounded Son At Scott AFB

Marine Pfc Gary L. Skaggs, 18, son of Mrs. Gladys Counts, 2713 Washington avenue, who was wounded by sniper fire in the right hip and suffered injuries to his right arm in the Jan. 29 surprise attack by Viet Cong forces on Da Nang, Vietnam, arrived last night at Scott Air Force Base aboard an air-ambulance plane.

He was visited by his mother before being transferred early today to the Great Lakes Naval Hospital near Chicago, where he is to be confined three to five months.

Mrs. Counts, a cafeteria employee at Granite City high school, first received word that her son was wounded in a letter from him Monday, written after he had arrived at a military hospital in the Philippine Islands.

The mother still has not received official notification of her son's condition. A Granite City Army Depot officer explained that present Army policy permits the serviceman to write home himself, if he is able to do so.

Mrs. Counts said she was notified by a Red Cross representative at 10:30 p.m. yesterday that Gary had arrived at Scott. "I called the hospital and they said I could see him for a few minutes. He said he feels "pretty good," but he is very thin. He also commented that he had not eaten for the past four days."

The young Marine gave his mother the Viet Cong bullet which surgeons removed from his hip. He said he sustained the wound while engaging the enemy in a paddy field outside Da Nang. He added that most of his platoon members were wounded or killed in the action.

Official Says Flood Threat is Critical

Ebersoldt Seeks Levee District Improvement Of Drainage Facilities

A dangerous flood potential exists in the Arlington Heights-State Park-Long Lake areas of the Quad-Cities and promises to become increasingly acute unless the Horseshoe Lake outlet into the Cahokia diversion channel is revised, the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board was informed in a regular meeting yesterday.

The warning was sounded by William "Mike" Ebersoldt, Venice, a member of the levee board who proposed that the district take immediate action to remove the flood gates on the Cahokia channel in the Sand Prairie lane area just east of Route 111, and construct a 4-foot culvert as an additional outlet into the canal.

Ebersoldt told the board that the almost continuous high stage of Horseshoe Lake in recent months and the increased amount of area runoff during the last three-year period has created a condition that would result "in serious flooding if we were to encounter any heavy rainfall." He said efforts to relieve the problem to some extent by increasing the flow into the Cahokia channel at the point where the floodgates are now located should be undertaken as soon as possible.

No Money Available

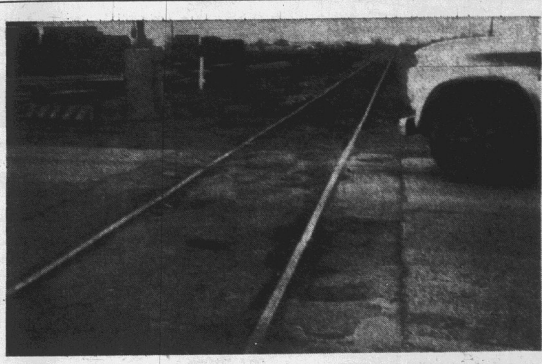

"I would like to see the work done in the next 30 days," Ebersoldt said.

Lawrence Tolar, president of the board, said, however, that the district has no money for any kind of a project at the present time.

"I have no objections to the project," Tolar said, adding Negotiators for Boilermakers Union Local 575 announced early this afternoon they had "flatly rejected" a new contract proposed by A. O. Smith Corp., where 1200 union members are on strike.

The new proposal, described by company representatives as a "final offer," was turned down during a meeting of union and company representatives with federal mediators at St. Louis this morning. Flarce Warfield, president and business representative of the union, said the offer was rejected after a study of the terms "point by point."

Warfield said the union offered to continue negotiations "around the clock" but that company officials refused to do so at this time. No further sessions were scheduled.

Village Easier to Create Than to Operate

By WILLIAM F. WINTER
(Last of six articles)

New municipalities are easy to create in Illinois; this state leads the nation in the kind of proliferation that has seen more than 100 local-level governments established in St. Louis county.

Voters will decide Monday, Feb. 26, whether to form a fifth Quad-City area municipality, the village of Chouteau, in the western Mitchell area of Chouteau township. The local community also includes the village of Pontoon Beach and the cities of Venice, Madison and Granite City.

The theory of "keeping government close to home" has many adherents. But authorities in such matters say it can be carried too far, citing as an extreme example the aforementioned St. Louis county, plagued with complicated jurisdictional questions, excessive taxation and inadequate services.

Pontoon 'Honeymoon' Over

When Pontoon Beach was born in 1962, there was confidence that the friends and neighbors who might serve in village offices would always act only with the full knowledge and approval of their constituents. There is already widespread disillusionment on this score, judging by recent Pontoon Beach elections and public discussions.

In St. Louis county, there was so much belief in the concept of "neighborly governing officials" that it was included in the name of one municipality — Bellefontaine Neighbors. So much controversy has since developed that the city has been nicknamed "Battling Neighbors."

Similar distrust of central cities also exists, partly accounting for the development of smaller suburban cities and villages. Exceptions include cities with something unusual to offer, such as Los Angeles' ability to offer a source of water to parched settlements considering annexation.

Lacking a "gimmick" except for the presence of a large and relatively diverse assessment base, Granite City was able to acquire the tax-burdened village of Nameoki in 1949, however.

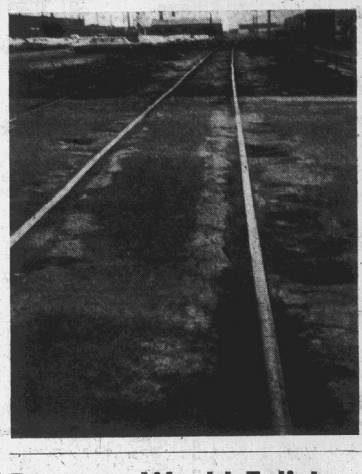

Such annexation is a mixed blessing. Residential neighborhoods usually provide less new revenue than the cost of expanding city departments to serve them.

But unquestionably some degree of centralization can achieve administrative economies and an improved quality and quantity of services. Community Unit School District Nine in Granite City and its 21 schools, for example, obviously function better than would 21 one-school systems.

Although they have encountered many of the same problems that a Chouteau village might face, South Roxana in Chouteau township and Pontoon Beach in Nameoki township have been cited by proponents of the new village as examples of efficiently and frugally operated municipalities run by close friends and associates of the residents.

Program Would Enlist Business in 'Radio Watch'

A "Community Radio Watch" program in which area business firms using radio-equipped vehicles would participate in reporting crimes, fires and accidents will be initiated here next week as an observance of National Crime Prevention Week under sponsorship of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities.

The program will be outlined in a luncheon meeting at noon Monday in the YMCA. William F. Hoelscher, manager-secretary of the manufacturers association, said invitations have been sent to the mayors of area communities, chiefs of police, state police, sheriff's officials, chiefs of area fire departments and to Army Depot officers.

Letters also have been sent to Quad-City area business firms using vehicles with radios, inviting them to attend the luncheon and to take part in the program.

Hoelscher said the program will cost participating companies nothing. All materials are supplied without charge by Motorola Corp. which is presenting the program on a nation-wide basis.

Basically companies using radio equipment instruct their drivers to keep watch for indications of crime, for fires and accidents. The driver relays the information to his own dispatcher who relays it to the police department or fire department.

$40,880 in Taxes Paid by Madison For Its Bridge

The Madison city council approved payment of real estate taxes of $40,880 to the city of St. Louis for the Chain of Rocks Bridge during a meeting Tuesday night, but it will be the last payment as long as the bridge remains toll free.

The city has received a notice from the Missouri tax commission exempting the bridge from tax assessments as long as it produces no income from traffic.

The last tax bill was for the year 1966, when Madison applied tolls for the first eight months and did more than $800,000 worth of business, netting the city close to a half million dollars, according to Mayor Stephen Maeras.

Hire Law Firm

The council hired the law firm of William Gartenberg and Associates of St. Louis to represent the city in any additional litigation concerning the bridge.

The firm acted for the city recently in the St. Louis circuit court, where the judge decided the court lacked jurisdiction in a suit brought by Missouri and a number of trucking companies seeking toll refunds.

The firm is to receive a fee of $40 per hour plus expenses and costs, but not more than a third of any amount sought by plaintiffs.

The bridge is now closed for repairs but should be reopened by next week, Mayor Maeras said. He added that there was difficulty with an expansion joint which was frozen due to insufficient traffic and accumulations of dust and dirt.

Closing Cuts Costs

The city decided to close the bridge to cut costs, which will be $8000 to $10,000 plus a profit for the contractor, the Robinson Steel Co. of St. Louis.

The mayor reported that vandals are damaging equipment at the site, and a guard may be needed during weekends.

Mayor Maeras said the city will have to paint the bridge during the summer, when the span may again be closed to cut costs. "We may save 25% of the painting bill if it is closed," he said.

Bids will be called after alternate plans and specifications are completed. The mayor said the city will be spending about $200,000 on the bridge this year.

He added that the city might derive some income if the Mississippi River Fuel Co. would agree to place new natural gas lines on it.

A letter was received from Gov. Otto Kerner asking to review reports of inspections on the bridge to prevent a disaster of the type which occurred when a bridge between Ohio and West Virginia collapsed recently.

Excellent Condition

The mayor forwarded a reply, along with the last inspection report dated July 3, showing the Madison bridge to be

State Cuts County's Rail, Stock Valuations

Agency Wants Local Raises But Trims Total by $801,000

The Illinois Department of Revenue which insists Madison county increase its own local assessments by $28 millions has reduced railroad and capital stock values for the county by $801,272.

The state revenue agency certified to the office of Miss Eulalia Hotz, Madison county clerk, a 1967 valuation of $16,721,904 for property owned by the 12 rail lines operating in the county, and a 1967 assessment of $3,460,850 on capital stock holdings.

New railroad valuations are a reduction of $463,647 below last year's values totaling $17,185,551, while the new assessment on capital stock is $337,625 less than the 1966 valuation of $3,798,475.

Railroad and capital stock assessments are made directly by the Illinois Department of Revenue which certifies the figures to the county clerk's office to be included in the county's overall assessments for determination of tax rates and tax extensions. Miss Hotz said her office will be unable to begin tax extension work, however, until local assessment books are completed by the Board of Review.

Raising County Total

Announcement of the new railroad and capital stock assessments came as the board is attempting to complete hearings on assessment increases in nine townships as a result of the state revenue agency's order for increase in valuations or be subject to a state multiplier that would have to be applied against all assessments in the county's 24 townships.

In an effort to bring the county's total valuation up to $923 millions—the amount suggested by the state as that necessary to avoid a multiplier—the review board ordered assessment increases of 10% to 25% in nine townships.

These include Granite City township in which valuations on lots and lot improvements will be increased $7.4 millions over the local assessor's figures, and Nameoki township where valuations will be increased approximately $3 millions, also on lots and lot improvements.

The Board of Review is now working under an extension of time granted by the state revenue department. Deadline for completion of hearings and certification of the assessment books is Feb. 19.

Raised Three Railroads

In certifying new railroad valuations, the state revenue department reduced below the 1966 figure the property values of nine railroads and raised those of three rail lines.

It increased the assessment of the GM&O to $1,173,260 from the 1966 figure of $1,102,743; raised the Norfolk & Western value from $1,493,446 to $1,509,620, and increased property values of the Wabash railroad, now a Norfolk & Western lessee, from $1,537,466 to $1,637,770.

Railroads received reduced assessments included Alton & Southern, $285,757 from $377,904; Chicago & Eastern Illinois, $340,930 from $352,341; Chicago

Former Resident Wounded in Hue

A former Granite City youth, whose parents returned to live at their previous home in Collinsville in late December, was seriously wounded last Wednesday during the Viet Cong's surprise attack on Hue, the ancient capitol of Vietnam.

Warrant Officer Richard B. Gilmore, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gilmore of Rural Route Two, Collinsville, formerly of Pontoon road, is a patient at a military hospital in Hawaii, from where he phoned his parents this week.

In the phone call, he reported sustaining a shrapnel wound in the chest, a badly-torn ear and shattered ear-drum, perforation of the other ear and loss of a part of the right foot. His mother said yesterday, the youth was in good spirits.

An official telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore said their son suffered mortar fragmentation wounds in both arms and legs. Prior to being flown to Hawaii, the serviceman was treated at hospitals at Da Nang, Vietnam, the Philippine Islands and at Guam. He is expected to remain at the Hawaiian hospital for approximately two months.

Helicopter Pilot

A helicopter pilot, assigned to the 282nd Aviation Co. at Hue since his arrival in Vietnam in mid-December, WO Gilmore and several other servicemen were asleep in a compound hut near the perimeter area when the Viet Cong attacked with mortar and rocket shells and guerrilla troops.

Awakened by the shooting, the pilot said he grabbed a flak vest and a machine gun an ran outside the hut, where he spotted and fired at three Viet Cong trying to cut through the barbed wire.

Whether or not his position was detected by tracer bullets from the weapon he was using, he is unable to say, but shortly afterwards an enemy 240 rocket shell struck the wall right over the serviceman's head; its impact dazing him. When he regained consciousness, a Medical Corpsman was giving him aid.

Intensive Sniper Fire

WO Gilmore said several of his pilot friends also were wounded. The wounded, along with others in their group, crawled to a vehicle in a parking area under attack; then fought their way five blocks through intensive sniper fire to a point where two planes were waiting to take the wounded to safety.

The helicopter pilot relayed to his parents great concern for his friends, who assisted him get to the plane, and then returned to the Citadel where they were billeted. Fighting in the city still continued this week.

A native of Granite City, the soldier attended local schools until moving to Collinsville as a ninth grade student. He was graduated from Collinsville high school in 1964. He played defensive back for two seasons on the Kahok football squad.

WO Gilmore attended Southern Illinois University for two years before enlisting in the Army in November 1966. The youth was sworn into the service at the Granite City Army Depot by his father, a Colonel in the Army Reserves, who was serving a 90-day tour of duty at that time.

He was trained at Fort Walters and Fort Rucker, Ala., and spent the Thanksgiving holidays at home before leaving for Vietnam on Dec. 12.

In a letter to his parents, received last Saturday, the serviceman described an inspection trip made by General William C. Westmoreland, U. S. commanding general, who selected Gilmore's helicopter in which to fly.

Nameoki Plans Suit to Block GC Drainage to Lake

Court action to prevent Granite City from discharging storm water drainage into Horseshoe Lake through the Nameoki area drainage ditch was authorized in a surprise move by the Nameoki town board Tuesday night.

The board unanimously approved a motion instructing Township Atty. Nick Vasileff to initiate as soon as possible a legal proceeding to block use of the Nameoki drainage ditch by Granite City as a discharge point for storm water drainage in the city's proposed new sewer system. Drainage from the Nameoki channel flows into Horseshoe Lake.

Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor, told the board he would confer with Vasileff within the next few days and then call a meeting of the board members for a full discussion of what can and what will be done. Pending the meeting with Vasileff, who did not attend Tuesday night's regular board meeting, board members said they assumed the litigation would be in the form of injunction proceedings.

No Earlier Opposition

The move came as a surprise near the end of a brief and otherwise routine board session, since town officials had announced no opposition earlier while Granite City was negotiating with the East Side Levee district controls the Nameoki ditch as part of the district's bi-county network of drainage ditches and canals.

Motion to initiate the action was made by Board Member Herbert Polley, who said that additional drainage from Granite City, particularly in periods of heavy rainfall, would raise the level of Horseshoe Lake to a stage that would flood many parts of Nameoki township.

"We have enough problems of our own and we certainly don't need Granite City's drainage added to them," Polley said.

He said that a rising lake level would cause a backup of Long Lake and could result in flooding of property around Long Lake, as well as that in the vicinity of Horseshoe Lake. He noted that "practically all of Horseshoe Lake is in Nameoki township," and said, "I imagine that somewhere in the books there is a law that prohibits one municipality from dumping its drainage into another municipality."

Lack Control of Gates

Polley added, "One of my main objections is that we have nothing to say about control of the floodgates from Horseshoe Lake into the diversion channel . . . if the levee district kept the gates closed at any time during heavy rains, particularly after Granite City started pouring its drainage into the lake, we would be flooded out all around here."

He said he was surprised that the Illinois State Highway Department has not shown more interest in Granite City's plan to discharge its storm water into the lake.

"A rising Horseshoe Lake could possibly flood Route 111 as well as parts of Route 162 east of Granite City," Polley said.

Polley's motion was given a second by Board Member Robert Strackeljahn, who declared that "State Park Place would be finished if a heavy rain came along while the lake level was high." Board members pointed out that Horseshoe Lake is now two feet above normal level.

Annexation Suit Ready

Briggs announced during the meeting that Vasileff is completing court proceedings to challenge Granite City's recent annexation of Maryville school and said the suit will be filed soon.

Briggs also informed the board that the township had been placed in the ironical position of turning down a proffered federal grant for a project for which the township has no plans.

He said a letter was received from the Housing and Urban Development Agency informing Nameoki township that funds were now available for construction of sewers in the area and that an application would be considered.

"Since we have no present plans for a sewer project and are not likely to have one soon, there was nothing to do but inform HUD that we cannot use the money at this time," Briggs said.

The board also approved a motion to instruct the township attorney to update the township's junkyard and nuisance ordinance. Charles Hanks, township highway commissioner, turned over to Town Clerk John Karlechik a check for $405 in motor fuel tax funds received from Madison county.

The office of Nameoki town tax collector Gene Rotter collected a total of $966,257 in 1966 property taxes last summer, of which 66.2% was distributed to the three school districts in the township, Rotter reported to the Nameoki town board Tuesday night.

The amount represented 54.72% of the total tax revenue. Madison School District 12 received $64,544, or 6.68% of the collection, and Collinsville School District 10 received $46,359, or 4.8%.

The township tax distribution totaled $128,610, or 13.30% of the total collections, with $63,941 going to the town fund and $64,668 going to the road and bridge fund.

The East Side Levee and Sanitary district received a total distribution of $97,811 in Nameoki township taxes, Rotter reported, or 10.12% of the collection, while Madison county received $72,176, or 7.47%.

Other smaller distributions amounted to $17,992. These included the city of Madison, $4897; Miracle Manor lighting district, $1604; State Park lighting district, $999; Long Lake fire district, $8622; State Park fire district, $1505; Granite City Park district, $363, and dog tax, $112.

Individual, Not Agency Owns Burned Apartment

Fire Chief Earl Fronabarger advised the Press-Record yesterday that his department had been informed by an insurance agent on different ownership for the vacant four-family frame flat badly damaged in two fires last Saturday.

"We were told the structure is owned by an Ollie Leisure instead of Hundley Pontiac and have changed the fire report," Chief Fronabarger said. The auto agency owns property adjacent to the vacant flat.

GC Soldier Fights from Top of Tank in Pleiku

Pfc Terry Greathouse of Granite City, attached to the 169th Armored division in Vietnam, took part in last week's bitter street fighting in Pleiku and killed invading Viet Cong from atop a tank, according to a letter received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. David C. Greathouse, 1922 Benton avenue.

Greathouse, who has been in service since last July and left for Vietnam Jan. 11, told his mother that "we were fighting off the top of armored tanks, shooting Viet Cong, and they have gone back into their holes . . . our tank alone was credited with 126 killed by body count."

He said there were ten other tanks in his group, each with seven men aboard, armed with machine guns and grenade launchers.

"I am all right," he wrote, "The fighting began with the Lunar New Year, but its over now . . . we really set old Charlie back awhile . . . he really went back in his hole."

Mrs. Greathouse said that her son received six months special training in infantry guerrilla warfare, but was placed in an armored group when he arrived in Vietnam. She said she has been sending regular boxes of food to her son, but that he asked her not to send more food because it is plentiful.

Taverns End Practices, Off-Limits Rescinded

A Feb. 1 order placing two Granite City taverns off-limits to military personnel was rescinded yesterday by Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, commanding officer of the Granite City Army Depot.

Discriminatory sales practices that prompted the order will be discontinued, operators of the two tavern have informed him.

Stray Dog Pickup Under Way in GC

A pickup of stray dogs in the North Granite area was started yesterday by the city humane department after it was reported Tuesday that a pekingese owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hagler, 2901 Nameoki drive, had been badly hurt by a pack of strays.

The pekingese was on a chain in the yard when it was attacked by a pack of dogs and lost an eye, the Haglers said.

Humane Officer Terry May said he issued warnings to several dog owners in the area advising them of the city's leash-muzzle law for dogs and that he picked up one stray dog. Another stray is being sought.

MORE ABOUT

Village Easier

A Pontoon Beach officeholder made these comments last March in discussing other Pontoon officials' plan to annex a subdivision utilizing a sewage lagoon over which the village was to accept ownership and responsibility:

Secret Deliberations

"There is no objection to annexation of such land, but there is objection to the method practiced when annexation ordinances are withheld until a meeting is in session and such ordinance is presented and passed at this one single meeting.

"The normal procedure is to read such ordinance at two regular meetings and a final reading and action at the third meeting; this provides the citizens that might be interested an opportunity to attend a meeting and express their opinion. On annexation ordinances, the one-meeting action has been practiced and the records will bear this out."

He noted that the village board was ignoring state statutes and its own village ordinances requiring that annexation petitions be filed with the village clerk 15 days prior to the board meeting at which they are to be placed on first reading.

Non-Bond Police Force

Another Pontoon official charged that village police began performing duties last year without benefit of bonds or confirmation of their appointment by the village trustees.

A 1966 Pontoon Beach dispute developed over practices followed in studying proposed revival of sewer installation plans.

Some of those named to participate in the Pontoon sewer study alleged that others held secret meetings and then claimed to be acting for the entire group in seeking a meeting with Nameoki township officials.

A similar secrecy issue developed in Chouteau township this fall when a committee was named to consider whether to seek village incorporation and what might be appropriate boundaries.

Less than 24 hours after a meeting at which subcommittees were formed to launch Chouteau research efforts, part of the committee filed completed incorporation petitions at the Madison county courthouse.

Deception Explained

They had been silent about their activities at the meeting and later explained it by saying they wanted to arouse as little notice as possible in order to "beat Granite City to the punch." They indicated they had expected Granite City council members to further discuss or act on the Mitchell area the following night; no such discussion or action developed.

Foreign Steel Imports Cost 600 Jobs at GC Steel Co.

Imported foreign steel cost Granite City Steel about 600 jobs last year and reduced the company's payments for the year for wages, salaries and other benefits by almost $6 million, Robert D. McBride, vice-president of operations, told the Granite City Rotary Club Tuesday.

McBride said that a formula developed by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce shows that every two jobs in a plant generate about 1.3 jobs in the surrounding community. "Thus, the 600 jobs that we did not have last year because of imported foreign steel meant that another 390 jobs were missing from the community outside our plant," he said.

"The greatest increase in imported steel in 1967 came right here in our prime market area, the midwest, and in our kind of products—flat rolled. Foreign steel companies shipped five tons of flat rolled products into the United States last year for every one ton shipped by Granite City Steel.

U. S. is a Prime Market

"To put it bluntly, the United States has become a prime market for steel imports. It has become a place where foreign steel producers ship their surplus production. Large cost differentials—especially in employment costs—make it possible for these foreign steelmakers, who are protected in many ways by their respective governments, to ship their steel here and sell it at prices well below the prices of American producers.

"In 1958, one million tons of steel was shipped into this country. In 1967, steel imports reached 11,455,000 tons, an all-time high and a gain of 6½% over 1966. The dollar value of the steel imported into this country last year was about $1.3 billion.

"Imported steel is costing American workers about 7700 jobs for every million tons of foreign steel that come into this country. With more than 11 million tons coming into the United States, steel imports represented the equivalent of 85,500 jobs lost to steel workers in other countries.

"The United States today finds itself in the unusual position of simultaneously being the world's largest producer of steel and the world's largest importer of steel.

"Our government is alone in its refusal to recognize that a healthy steel industry is as essential to the economic well being and national security of the United States as it is to every other industrialized nation. Neither the European Common Market nor any other major steel producing country imports as much as 5% of their domestic steel requirements. Yet we have now allowed our imports to increase to where they account for over 12% of the total United States market for steel.

"I am not trying to be an alarmist, but if the present trend continues unchecked, it could seriously weaken the American steel industry and adversely affect our nation's economy. And, let me emphasize, this is not only a steel industry problem; it belongs to all of us."

McBride urged Rotary members to join American steelmakers in writing their Congressmen and expressing their concern about the runaway course of foreign iron and steel imports.

"While the problem is already serious, it is likely to get far worse, because foreign steel producers are out to gain a greater and greater share of the American market. America's steelmakers are urging Congress to take corrective action while it can still be done without major disruption of international trade.

"We are asking Congress to take steps now to stem the runaway tide of imports by passing legislation that would permit imports to grow—but in in orderly pattern.

"Bills to accomplish this have been introduced in both houses of Congress, and co-sponsored by 36 Senators and numerous Congressmen. They would limit imports by a system of quotas based on a sliding scale.

"Foreign producers would be allowed to ship in steel and pig iron up to the average per cent of the market they have had for the last three years. Since the per cent would remain constant, their future sales could grow as the American market expands.

"In the interest of fairness, the program would be reviewed after five years by the Secretary of Commerce."

ROBERT G. THOMAS

Thomas Bids for GOP Candidacy For Coroner Post

Official announcement of his candidacy for Republican nomination to the office of county coroner was made today by Robert G. Thomas, local funeral director. The primary election will be June 11.

Thomas, who has served two terms as deputy coroner, is a lifelong resident of Granite City and is a partner in the Mercer Funeral Home. He has been affiliated with the funeral home for 35 years.

Thomas is a member and past elder of the First Presbyterian Church. He is a member of Masonic Lodge 877 AF& AM, the Scottish Rite bodies, Aimad Shrine, Tri-City Shrine Club, Knights Templar uniformed units, the Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters, Eastern Star and is a past officer of the White Shrine.

Memberships also are held by him in the Elks Lodge, Moose Lodge, Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and Chauffeurs & Teamsters Local 525.

In the business field he holds memberships in the Illinois Funeral Directors Association, National Funeral Directors Association, Egyptian Funeral Directors Association and Associated Funeral Directors.

Venice Boy Arrested

A 15-year Venice boy was picked up by Venice police yesterday at the request of the Illinois Youth Commission, and was turned over last night to a commission agent. Police said the youth who previously had been at St. Charles School for Boys was wanted for parole violation.

Meeting on Zoning Code Revisions is Postponed

A meeting on proposed revision and updating Granite City's zoning code—scheduled for last night at the city hall—was postponed and the new date will be announced later.

The postponement was granted to give the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission staff sufficient time to prepare copies of the proposed changes for officials and interested parties in advance of preliminary discussion.

Nameoki and Granite City townships were among nine singled out for multipliers. Chouteau and Venice were among 15 townships which escaped such a multiplier.

However, the new precent indicates the Review Board will scan all townships in future years in an accelerated effort to encourage and enforce uniform assessing by elected township assessors.

A third uncertainty being weighed by voters is whether they would be better off with village or Madison county zoning. Adopted in 1964 after being the subject of heated debate at a series of hearings, the controversial county zoning ordinance has since won over most of those who had doubts about it initially.

Chouteau village advocates have indicated they favor eliminating the county land use regulations and replacing them with their own zoning rules. They say this can encourage orderly development and discourage undesirable projects.

Groups seeking to attract manufacturers to a 9000-acre industrial park in the vicinity say elimination of county zoning could impair a major sales point—guarantees of uniform prices and compatible adjacent property usage.

Additional Government Agency

But perhaps the biggest uncertainty of all centers in the issue of government by one's neighbors. Each voter must ponder whether he wants to see another layer of government added to those now having supervision over him.

The powers vested in a village frighten some Chouteau residents and reassure others.

Officials could adopt laws leading to fines and six-month imprisonment for violators, could regulate the public conduct of individuals and the procedures of business firms, could issue or refuse permits, and could determine the extent of adherence to the construction codes and other potential regulations.

Prospective officials stress that "you will be governed by people close to your home who are familiar with your problems." Some residents respond, "But can I be sure you will put my wishes and needs first?"

What will be the outcome? The vote could be close. Opponents are numerous, but advocates may be better organized and financed—a classic example of political professionals vs. amateurs.

Business Issue Mitchell

A key element of the successful effort to create Pontoon Beach—alarm over possible future annexation by Granite City—is one of the arguments being used by those favoring incorporation of Chouteau. The Chouteau advocates also admit to future annexation plans aimed primarily in the direction of eastern Mitchell.

In contrast to the limited-services, limited-costs appeal used at Pontoon Beach, Chouteau village proponents openly urge broad use of municipal powers to upgrade living conditions.

They concede that property taxes would be utilized but list business licenses, sales taxes and gasoline taxes among the additional sources of revenue.

A problem confronting Chouteau voters, as was the case slightly over five years ago in Pontoon Beach, is that they must decide whether to incorporate without knowing the identity of their officials.

State law provides that the decision on formation of a municipality occurs before an election in which officeholders would be chosen. Not knowing who will govern them, residents have no way of finding out what their policies would be and how effectively the policies might be carried out.

Assessment Outlook Altered

Uncertainty also exists over the tax outlook. One of the reasons Pontoon residents formed a village was that they favored Nameoki township assessment because it was based generally on a lower percentage of full value. All additions to the city of Granite City automatically join Granite City township.

The Madison County Board of Review has invoked township tax multipliers for the first time this year, probably heralding an eventual end to all real and imagined low-assessment havens.

in excellent condition. The span is now inspected once a year, since traffic has diminished with the opening of the adjacent Interstate 270 bridge.

A state traffic count shows that an average of 1450 vehicles a day are using the bridge after a drop to an estimated 100.

In a reply to the State Department of Public Works & Buildings, the city recommended that no special permits be given to oversize or overweight vehicles for use of the bridge, and that such traffic be routed over the Interstate span.

The city terminated its contract to use the Granite City landfill effective Feb. 1 and is now using the Mal landfill at Chouteau Island at no cost, according to terms of a lease to the landfill company. The city will save $3600 per year.

Work to restore the Mal landfill to meet state standards was completed Tuesday evening and it was given official state approval, according to Jack Clifford, county sanitation officer.

Mayor Maeras suggested that surrounding communities provide financial relief to the city of Venice, which is spending a half million dollars as its share of the cost of a proposed railroad crossing auto underpass on Broadway.

"The city of Venice should not have to spend that amount of money if it will not get the money back," he said, adding that additional traffic on Federal Aid Route 151 "will not appreciably add to (McKinley) bridge revenues.

"Venice deserves a lot of credit for what it is doing. It is doing the entire area a great big 'Big Brother' act."

Because of continued traffic accidents at McCambridge avenue and Edwardsville road, the mayor said efforts to obtain a traffic signal system at the intersection will be renewed with the state.

Mayor Maeras reported on complaints of blighted areas on Sixth street between State street and Madison avenue, where junk yards exist on both sides of the street. "We're going to do something about it," he said "Those operations should be fenced, kept clean and hidden from residents and merchants."

It was reported that preliminary plans and forms for improvement of Harris and Farish streets leading to the city's industrial park have been completed and forwarded to the state highway division for approval.

The council requested $853 in motor fuel tax funds for engineering costs connected with improvement of 12th street.

Special NFO Meeting

A special meeting of the Madison county branch of the National Farmers Organization will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the American Legion hall at Alhambra, it was announced today. Lee Rogers, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization office at Edwardsville, will be the principal speaker. A report on the commodities holding action of the NFO at national level also will be given. Refreshments will be served.

Social Security Hike Due in March

Social Security increases will be reflected in checks beneficiaries receive on March 2, Ralph Brasher of the East St. Louis office said today.

Brasher said that many beneficiaries are getting in touch with the Social Security office unnecessarily this week in the mistaken belief that the benefit increase in the 1967 Social Security Amendments would be included in the checks they received on Feb. 3.

Beneficiaries need not take any action to get the increase, he said. The increase will be sent to them automatically.

Official Says that "we have a lot of projects that should be carried out, but we have no money."

When asked by Tolar for an estimate of the cost, Ebersoldt replied that he believed the project could be completed for about $20,000. Later Adwir Kramer, chief engineer of the levee district, said he believed the project would run more than that, but he could not estimate the amount.

Ezersoldt's suggestion included removal of the flood gates at the diversion canal and the installation of a 4-foot culvert. Drainage from Horseshoe Lake and from surrounding watershed would not flow in the culvert until the ditch reached a certain level. Kraemer said it would be necessary to retain the grates at the flood gates to catch large amounts of debris that comes down the channel in periods of heavy runoff. It also would be necessary to screen the front of the new culvert for the same purposes, he said.

Flood Danger Exists

Ebersoldt told the board that a heavy rain could result in a backup of drainage flow to flood the Arlington Heights, State Park Place and the Long Lake areas, and noted there is particular danger to the State Park area.

"There was a time only a few years ago when the gates were used to regulate the amount of drainage, but at that time we were getting only a trickle of water from the lake itself," Ebersold explained. "Now," he went on, "we are getting an almost constant, heavy run of drainage from the lake, exclusive of any hillside runoff."

He said the amount of drainage runoff from the Madison county watershed has increased "about ten times over" in the last few years because of subdivision development, construction of more highways and other developments that eliminate the absorbing qualities of the land.

Tolar suggested that Ebersoldt and Kraemer develop the project further and to investigate the possibility of hiring a contractor who would be willing to wait for his money until next year.

Should be Budgeted

"This project should have been brought in for the budget," Tolar said. "There isn't any provision for paying the bill on this." The district's new budget was adopted by the board last week.

Board members also approved an easement over a tract of levee district land north of Mitchell for the Illinois Power Co. which plans to construct an overhead transmission line.

It also approved January claims totaling $34,676 and a January payroll of $27,287. A report by district treasurer Thomas Stilcoff showed the district had total receipts of $265,567 during January, with total disbursements of $233,764.

Of the expenditures, $114,542 represented payments to the district's bond sinking fund.

The board will meet in special session next Wednesday to adopt the tax levy.

Rotary, Lions Plan Madison Labor Day Fete

Attendance competition was launched yesterday by Madison Rotarians, who also approved a plan to co-sponsor a Labor Day weekend festival on the Third street playground area in Madison.

Proceeds from the Labor Day rides and concession stands will go to development of the Seventh street and Lee avenue block as a recreational area featuring volleyball, tennis, badminton, basketball, horseshoe and shuffleboard courts.

Plans for the Labor Day activities were outlined by Lee Abernathy of the Madison Lions club, the other co-sponsor. There have been few major public observances of Labor Day in the Quad-Cities in recent years.

The festival will be held in addition to a tradtional Fourth of July event, sponsored by the Lions and other Madison organizations.

President Harvey Miller presided at yesterday's Rotary luncheon, and the club voted to contribute $25 toward the Overland, Mo., Rotary club's drive to finance a kidney machine needed to maintain the life of one of its members.

William Mehl was named chairman of a committee to nominate 1968-69 officers.

Details of the Seventh street recreational project fund campaign will be discussed at next Wednesday's meeting, and the Rotarians and their wives will hold a Valentine dinner party Feb. 21 at the Round Table.

140 Hear Talk by State PTA President at Meeting Here

Approximately 140 attending the Granite City Area PTA Council's annual "Appreciation Awards Banquet" Tuesday evening heard a talk by Mrs. Walter G. Kimmel of Rockford, state president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, who outlined reasons why PTA participation by today's parents is more vital then ever before.

The tenth annual smorgasbord dinner was held in the Granite City high school cafeteria.

Other distinguished guests introduced, included Mrs. Pat Polley, council president; School Supt. and Mrs. B. J. Davis; School Board Treasurer George E. Moore and Mrs. Moore; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Briggs; Mrs. Thomas Holland, District 29 director, and husband, of East Alton; and Mrs. V. J. Brazier, ICPT first vice-president, and husband, from Wood River; and Mrs. Ida Hanfelder of Granite City, past district 29 director, who gave the invocation.

Basing her talk on the topic, "PTA—Obsolete," Mrs. Kimmel asked PTA members and educators to question themselves in such areas as the need for PTA; what are today's most vital problems in the schools; whether the individual parent is sufficiently knowledgable about the affairs of their own home, schools, church and community.

"In concert with the population explosion, there also is a knowledge explosion," Mrs. Kimmel said. "People want and need to know more about activities and problems in all facets of their community. The alarming increase in juvenile crimes and abuse of children are among the unhappy problems we face today.

"There is an apparent apathy evident today, not only in PTA but in many organizations," the state PTA president said, adding, "it becomes increasingly difficult to find people who will give the time to keep an organization working."

She stressed the need for each PTA unit to sponsor a "Family Life Education" program. Parents should learn more about school finances and school curriculum, Mrs. Kimmel pointed out.

"PTA has the people. We should join with other service groups to provide essential service to all children," she concluded.

Originally, selected by the nominations committee to receive the council's top award was Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, whose candidacy was withdrawn after it was learned she had previously been presented a Life Membership Award by Lake PTA, in recognition of outstanding service as unit president.

Persons having received a Life Membership from individual units are ineligible for the council's annual award, it was announced. The selection committee probably will call for a new slate of nominees, it was learned.

Also honored at the dinner was Mrs. Jo Ann Kalert, who was presented a certificate of recognition.

Entertainment was provided by the Checkerboard Squares, a group of young square dancing enthusiasts, directed by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boyd. Various styles in square and round dancing were performed by the youngsters, with a specialty routine spotlighting Shelley Boyd, who also acted as caller.

INTENSITY OF COMPETITION at Venice Tuesday night is illustrated by this scramble for possession of the basketball. Red Devils visible include Tom McIntosh (50) and Russell Turner (52). No. 44 of St. Paul is Luber. Venice trailed early but led by 11 at the half. High scorers were John Gardner, 24 points, and Turner, 16.

16th Venice Victory Tightens MCM Conference Cage Competition

Venice high school's Red Devil basketball team was able to keep close to first place Tuesday night by defeating St. Paul of Highland 80-65 in an MCM Conference game at the Venice gym. Local hopes rest on someone upsetting the league leader, Bunker Hill, with whom Venice has split two games.

The Red Devils, who have a season record of 16-4 and a conference mark of 7-2, are now in sole possession of second place. St. Paul had been tied with Venice but now is 6-3 in MCM play.

Bunker Hill has a 6-1 conference record and a 13-4 season tally.

Tuesday's quarter scores favoring Venice were 14-12, 41-30 and 58-47. It was only the sixth loss in 20 starts for St. Paul this season.

Visitors Tall, Fast

The Red Devils found themselves facing a taller team which had good speed for its size. St. Paul scored four points at the start of the game before Venice was able to hit.

St. Paul was especially accurate in its outside shooting early in the contest.

Missed shots and rebounds began to turn the tide and Venice stepped up its running game.

Foul Trouble

From the second quarter to the final minutes of the game, St. Paul was unable to keep pace with the Red Devils. The deficit forced the visitors to become more aggressive and they soon got into foul trouble.

Three St. Paul starters fouled out midway in the last period. Venice committed only 10 fouls throughout the game.

John Gardner led the Red Devils with 24 points, followed by Russ Turner with 16, Frank Glover 13, Larry Mosby 12, Tom McIntosh nine, George McIntyre four and Mike Leatherman, two.

Sophomores Drop 78-74 Contest at Belleville

Scoring were Jeff Boyles, 23, Dave Melzer 19, Steve Harris 10, Gary Johnson seven, Tim Schwendeman six, Ron Simpson five and Dave Evans, four.

Local Regional Cage Tournament Among Most Important in State

Building up to the state championship basketball game March 23, a total of 762 teams throughout Illinois will begin competition in district and regional tournaments Feb. 26-March 1 and March 4-8.

Regional winners will advance to sectionals March 13-15 and champions there go on to the state finals that begin March 19 with first-round eliminations at eight locations.

Super-sectional survivors collide at Champaign March 22-23 to decide who will succeed Pekin as state champion.

The Granite City regional tournament is shaping up to be one of the top tournaments in the state. Collinsville (17-1), Alton (15-4) and Edwardsville are among the schools that will compete at the memorial gym here.

Top-Rated Quintets

Collinsville and Alton have been rated in the top 16 teams in Illinois all season, and Edwardsville is getting closer to the elite group, advancing to 18th place. The Kahoks currently are fifth, with Effingham first and defending champion Pekin eighth.

Alton suffered its second defeat in two weeks last weekend losing to Edwardsville. Alton is the only team that has defeated Collinsville.

Collinsville will open the GC regional by meeting Marquette of Alton. The host Warriors will play the second game against crosstown rival Madison. The Warriors beat the Trojans in their regular season meeting this year, but Madison has a 16-3 won-lost record to Granite City's 7-10.

The Alton Red Birds will play the Roxana Shells and the Edwardsville Tigers will meet the Wood River Oilers in other regional quarterfinal contests.

Local Victory Possible

The favored Kahoks could meet their Waterloo against the surviving Quad-City team in the semifinals if they look too far ahead and let their thoughts dwell on a possible final-round rematch with Alton.

The winner of this regional will move on to the East St. Louis sectional, as will the Belleville Althoff regional winner—which could be the other local team, Venice high school.

The Venice Red Devils will compete in the O'Fallon district against St. Henry's of Belleville. Also paired in that district are Columbia vs. Mascoutah, Dupo vs. Lovejoy and O'Fallon vs. Lebanon.

Venice May Play Cahokia

The winner of the O'Fallon district tournament will advance to the Althoff regional and play against Cahokia.

Other games in the Althoff regional are East St. Louis vs. Assumption of East St. Louis, Belleville East vs. Belleville West and Belleville Althoff vs. Lincoln of East St. Louis.

Pekin high school, which has a 16-2 record, will open play against Eureka in the East Peoria regional. Other teams in that tournament are East Peoria, Bartonville, Morton, Washington and Mackinaw.

Effingham (16-0) in its first regional game will compete against Louisville (North Clay) in the Effingham St. Anthony regional.

Other games of interest here include Litchfield vs. Bunker Hill and Bethalto (Civic Memorial) vs. Gillespie in the Carlinville regional; Aviston vs. Breese in the Odin district; and Breese Mater Dei vs. the winner of the Odin tournament in the Salem regional.

Young Ball Players Calling Park Office

Boys interested in playing baseball in the Granite City park district this summer are being asked to contact the park office by calling 877-3069 if not already on a team.

Boys' names are taken from the list in the order that the calls are made. "Don't wait until the last moment and be disappointed," a spokesman said.

All managers in the Atom, Bantam, Midget, Juvenile and Junior Divisions of the park district baseball program are to meet at 7 p.m. Monday at the Community Center.

Hogan Close to Lead In National Bowling Eliminations in Area

A local all-star elimination bowling tournament will go into its second week Sunday as area bowlers compete at Bowland and at Shop City during the afternoon and evening.

One squad will compete at 1 p.m. and the other at 7 p.m. at the local lanes.

Leading the 22 bowlers is Pepper Touchette of East St. Louis, who has rolled a total of 2433 pins, followed closely by Granite Cityan John Hogan with 2422 for 12 games, an average of 202.

In tenth place is Jake Marti with 2324. Tied for 11th are Max Legate and Bill Wells with 2318 scores, and 16th is Gary Gubser with 2198.

After Sunday, the field will consist of 16 bowlers who will bowl at Bel Air Bowl in Belleville on Sunday, Feb. 18. The top three men from there will compete in a national tournament at Garden City, N. Y., in May.

The Bowling Proprietors Association, sponsoring the tournament, pays all expenses for the three chosen from each area.

Soccer Warriors Tie; End First Season Today

The first season for the Granite City high school Fighting Warriors soccer team will draw to a close this afternoon, the squad traveling to Belleville to play a 4 o'clock game against St. Henry's Preparatory school.

The Warriors have a record of two wins, six losses and three ties for the year after playing to a 1-1 tie against Assumption of East St. Louis here Tuesday night.

In their most recent five games, the Warriors have lost only once while tying three times and scoring one victory.

Scored in 7 Games

Coach Tom Wryostek comments, "I am very pleased with the team for its first season.

Who would have thought that a first-year team could even score? We have managed to get at least one goal in seven out of our 11 games."

In Tuesday's contest, both goals came in the first half of play, with Assumption scoring first. The ball was shot toward the goal and Goalie Dan Hodge saved it from going in.

But it bounced off a goalpost and right back to one of the Assumption players, catching the Warriors out of position.

Pass Aids Melton Goal

About two minutes later, Outside Left Bobby Canada passed the ball across the goal, drawing the opposing goalie out of the box as he tried to stop the pass. The ball went over the goalie's head and was trapped by Warrior Herb Melton, who got control of the pass and lined it into the net.

"There really wasn't much shooting, although we did shoot more than they did," Wyrostek noted. "We had the ball at their end most of the first half and they had the ball at our end of the field most of the second half.

"Jim Rollins, the left fullback, played an outstanding game. He cleared several shots and was able to save two possible goals himself when Hodge was caught out of the box. He hustled for the entire game and kept us fired up."

SIU-SW Team to Face Gallatin Alma Mater

SIU-SW cagers face what many consider their toughest test of the season when they go against Northeast Missouri State College Saturday night at Kirksville.

Coach Harry Gallatin's Cougars will be trying for their fourth basketball victory in a row at the expense of the 9-8 Bulldogs, who once were sparked by the play of the SIU coach.

However, Gallatin's nostalgia will dissipate with the starting buzzer at 7:30 as the Catmen try to add to their 4-3 record. The Cougars will concentrate on containing 6'-5" Bulldog center Paul Ozug, who is netting 22 points a game, and guard Ken McBride of Cahokia, averaging 13.

At the same time, they will make shooting room for Cougar guard Tom Dahncke and forward Gary Collins, whose averages are 18 and 16 points, respectively.

As usual, Gallatin will rely considerably on defense, hoping for turnovers to give SIU more shooting opportunities. Center Jim Gates at 6'-4" and 6'-3" forward Dennis Knoble, who is averaging nine rebounds, will spearhead ball recovery chores.

Big Trojan Fourth Quarter Overpowers Tigers, 88-64

Saving the best for last, the explosive Madison high school basketball Trojans bombarded their home basket for 33 points in the final quarter Tuesday night to demolish the Dupo Tigers' upset hopes, 88-64.

"Our pressing defense didn't seem to have much effect on the Tigers for the first three quarters," MHS Coach John Logan summarized. Dupo held a 22-18 advantage after the first period, and the Trojans led 36-35 at the half and only 55-52 at the end of the third quarter.

The pressure finally began to take a toll, aided by fouls the Tigers had employed in their effective efforts to contain the Trojan offense.

Mike Douchant, who had held Trojan Gary Lusk to 12 points, fouled out with three minutes left in the third period. Lusk totaled 26 points by the end of the game, connecting on nine of 15 field goal attempts and eight of 11 free throws. His drives resulted in several three-point plays.

6-1 Conference Record

Also fouling out, in the first minute of the fourth quarter with the score 55-54, was Tiger Marc Hurt, a six-foot, five-inch center who ended his Midwestern Conference competition with the game.

Dupo has completed its league play with an 8-4 record, while Madison and Cahokia share first place with six wins and one defeat each.

Hurt, second highest Midwestern pointmaker, trailing only Madison's Lusk, led the Dupo scoring here Tuesday with 18 points.

Joe Collins played a key role in the MHS triumph with 11 rebounds and 19 points, the latter consisting of eight of 13 shots from the field and three of six at the free throw line.

12 Straight Free Throws

Tom Weston was extremely sharp at the charity stripe, cashing in 12 straight attempts before missing the thirteenth. He meshed five of seven field goal tries to total 22 points for the evening, and snared six rebounds.

Ably aiding Lusk, Weston and Collins were Titus Shipp with eight, Jim Scott six, Dale Clinton four and Keith Williams, three.

With 49 fouls called in the game, Lusk played most of the second half while trying to avoid committing a fifth foul.

Proud of the Trojans' relatively dependable offense this season—Madison outshot Dupo 52% to 44% in the game—Coach Logan was disappointed only in the early defensive failures.

However, he credited his players with wearing down their opponents to help make the late Trojan surge possible.

Dupo was limited to only 12 points in the fourth period. Falling three and then five points behind as Trojans stole the ball, the Tigers were forced to shoot and suddenly found their marksmanship and rebounding absent. The steady Madison march to the goal followed.

13-for-17 Accuracy

"We hit 13 of our 17 shots in the last quarter," the coach noted. "It just seemed like everything started working smoothly and the boys began playing the kind of basketball they wanted to play earlier in the game.

"In the fourth quarter our defense and offense looked as good as we have at any time this season."

It has been quite a season for MHS, with 16 victories in 19 games.

The conference championship is within reach—Cahokia will visit the Trojan gymnasium next Tuesday. And regional pairings give Madison an opportunity to average a 1967-68 setback at the hands of Granite City.

Of course, there are things about the Renault 10 to remind you that it's still a car. Like 11 cubic feet of luggage space, 35 m.p.g., a surprising top speed of 85 m.p.h. and 4-wheel disc brakes.

Local Couple Takes 6-Week Tour through S. America

Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Brooks, 2707 Harvey place, have just returned from a six-week vacation in South America.

The trip began on Christmas Day when they left Miami, Fla., by plane for Panama and on to Bogota, Colombia, for a five-day visit. The next stop was made at Quito, Ecuador and on to Lima, Peru, the main purpose of the trip.

Dr. Brooks attended the convention of the International Organization, in which he holds an office, of the Rosicrucions. The convention was in Spanish, but Dr. Brooks said he was able to follow the trend of the discussions. Main office of the organization is in San Jose, Calif.

Following the convention, Dr. and Mrs. Brooks began their tour of the countries and historical points of interest.

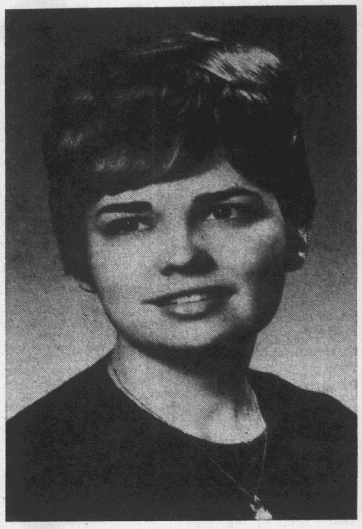

First stop was made at Cuzco and the Andean city of Machu Picchu to view the Inca ruins. The all-day trip was made by train up the mountains. From here they boarded another train to visit Lake Titicaca on the Peruvian-Bolivian border for a steamer voyage. This lake is the highest lake in the world on which steamboats ply. (12,506 feet) and the second largest lakein South America, covering an estimated 3200 square miles.

A visit to La Paz, the actual seat of the government, lies in the heart of a gigantic canyon about three miles wide, here a day's journey into the jungle area proved most exciting, for the Brooks. Orchids growing wild provided beautiful color with the green vegetation and parrots and other unusual birds, in their natural habitat.

Their itinerary took them on to Santiago, Chile, with a side trip to Vena del Mar for a weekend and then south to the Chilian lake region for a week, from this point they crossed the Andes to Argentina. Three days were spent in Buenos Aires, then to Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay to view the LaGuayra Falls on the Parama River.

Stopovers were made at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil and to the new capitol, Brasilia, to Manaus on the Amazon River and then to Caracas, Venezuela, for five days. From here the return trip home began with a two-day visit in Jamaica, on to Miami and St. Louis.

Dr. Brooks, a chiropractor, with offices in East St. Louis said, "My wife and I enjoyed the trip so much we took 36 rolls of film, and are awaiting the development to relive some of the most exciting and beautiful places we visited."

Grand Jury Advises

Smaller TB Sanitorium, More Nursing Home Room

Construction of a new and smaller county tuberculosis sanatorium and conversion of the present building into a nursing home was recommended by the Madison county grand jury in its report Monday afternoon at Edwardsville.

The grand jury, which inspected both the sanatorium and the county nursing home at Edwardsville, reported that the sanatorium is in excellent condition.

"However, due to medical science, there his been a tremendous drop in the number of patients staying at the sanatorium." At the time of the inspection, it had only 18 patients, and the building has a capacity of 99. A year ago the average was 34.

"A new but smaller sanatorium would not only cut the operating cost of this institution, but would also solve the overcrowded conditions of another," the jurors said.

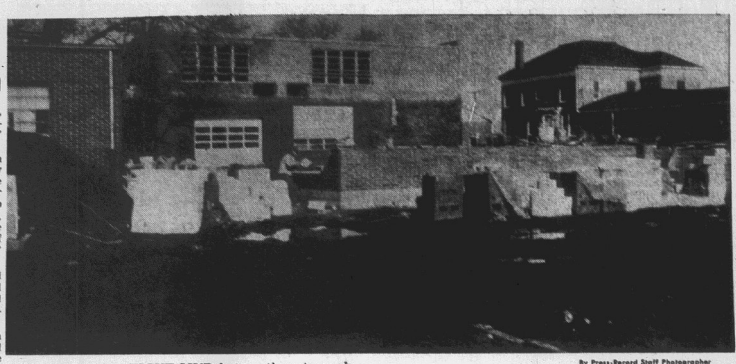

The nursing home has been filled to its 59-patient capacity with a long waiting list. "There is beyond question a need for a new and separate home to take care of additional people, an addition to the present home now in use, or the building of a whole new home altogether," the jury said.

Of the county jail, the grand jury said that "though general conditions were found in good order, the following recommendations are made:

"The writings and pictures on the cell walls should be cleaned and if need be this should be done several times a year.

"Something should be done to clean the toilets as they appear to be filthy.

"Nothing elaborate, but something in the way of recreation facilities are needed."

Survey of State Fishermen Shows Illinois River Popular

The Illinois River and the bottomland lakes associated with it are the most fished waters in the state. This is one of many facts revealed by a survey of state anglers by the Division of Fisheries, Illinois Department of Conservation.

More than half of the 17,325 fishermen contacted by mail cooperated in the survey. Most anglers reported that they preferred to land catfish. Second in preference was the largemouth bass, followed by crappie and bluegill.

More bluegills were actually caught, however, than any other species, followed by catfish and bullheads, crappie, carp and largemouth bass.

Most anglers used natural baits rather than artificial lures and fished from the shore rather than from a boat. Spinning and spin casting gear was the most popular type of tackle.

Over half of the fishermen said they thought that fishing was poorer now than when they started to fish and pollution control was believed to be the best way to improve fishing.

Over 80% of the licensed anglers in Illinois are between 25 and 64 years of age; about one-third of them are from 45 to 64 years of age. The majority of anglers contacted claimed that their parents interested them in fishing.

It would appear from the small sample of youthful anglers in the survey that today parents are not trying to make anglers out of their children or that fishing does not appeal to younger people as much as assumed.

The survey also revealed that the proportion of people living in a rural county who fish is much higher than the proportion of fishermen in an urban county, even though fishing opportunities may be within a 90-minute drive of an urban area. Evidently people in urban areas do not have the desire to fish or to teach their youngsters how to fish.

Art Resources Traveler Now on Display at GCHS

The Art Resources Traveler — a huge trailer with famous work of art—currently is featuring displays at Granite City high school on the cafeteria parking lot.

While the trailer is here primarily for visitation by school-age youngsters, Eugene Aiassi, art director for the school district, said it will be open to the public from 6 to 8 o'clock this evening and again from 6 to 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Its visit here is sponsored by the office of State Supt. of Public Instruction Ray Page, and the supporting agencies include the U.S. Office of Education and the Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc., of New York.

Aiassi explained the Art Resources Traveler is "the culmination of a dream and a vision to provide a mobile museum as a visual technique to expand an individual's ability to learn, appreciate and understand the visual arts.

"One purpose is to bring to all children, youth and adults the visual expressions of man; to provide the facility to help people understand the visual arts through museum lecture techniques."

Ceremony Planned

Sesqui Stamp Goes on Sale Monday at Shawneetown

February 12 will be a big day in Shawneetown. It's not only Lincoln's birthday but the date of the first issue of the Illinois Sesquicentennial commemorative stamp and the celebration planned will make history. The first stamp will be purchased by Gov. Otto Kerner from Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

The day's festivities will start with a 10 a.m. parade from the public square to the post office. The Scott Air Force Band will lead the Marching units, organizations and floats.

Atty. Joe Hale will act as master of ceremonies at all events throughout the day and will preside at the post office. The flag raising ceremony by a combined Gallatin county honor guard will be followed by the unveiling of a plaque by the governor and the sale of the stamp.

Mayor Sam Denton and Postmaster Keith Phillips are coordinating all details with Mrs. Opal Dietz, chairman of the Gallatin County Sesquicentennial committee.

The ceremonies will move on to a festive noon luncheon planned by the Gallatin County Historical Society at St. Mary's Catholic Church. A bountiful feast and a special souvenir program with pictures of the dignitaries and a copy of the speech are available to the general public. Five hundred reservations will be accepted on a "first come" basis with tickets priced at $3 per person. Mail checks to the Rev. Mr. John Stallings, St. Mary's Catholic Church, Shawneetown, Ill. 62984.

Sen. Simon to Speak

Sesquicentennial Commission Chairman Ralph G. Newman serves as luncheon chairman and will introduce honored guests and State Senator Paul Simon speaking on "Lincoln the Postmaster."

The celebration will move on to the high school gymnasium where the Scott Field Air Force Band will play before the ceremony. Dignitaries and luncheon guests will have special reserved seats. The program is scheduled to start at 2:15 p.m. with Congressman Kenneth Gray, chairman, introducing state and federal officials. Gov. Kerner and Ralph Newman will speak briefly before the main address by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien followed by a presentation of stamp albums.

Commenting on the celebration, Newman said it was a major event on the state's calendar for the Sesquicentennial commemorating 150 years of statehood. He said the commission had chosen the postoffice at Shawneetown because it had been in continuous operation since 1811.

Newman added that both he and Gov. Kerner hope for a goal of two million first day stamps, a new record for such a philatelic event.

Professor George Barford, an art teacher at Illinois State University, Normal, for the past 20 years, won a $1000 emolument from the postoffice, plus a $500 prize from the First National Bank of Chicago as one of the five finalists in the stamp design competition sponsored by the Sesquicentennial Commission. Barford's design depicts a typical farmland scene under a hot summer sun. It is actually a farm near Bloomington and Barford sees it during his daily drives to work at the university.

Use Baking Soda to Fight Grease Fire

To guard against the danger of a grease fire, on or in a stove, it's a good idea to keep a plentiful supply of baking soda on hand.

Burning grease will not be extinguished by throwing water on it, says the Quad-City Safety Council.

The best remedy, after first turning off the heat, is to throw baking soda on the burning grease. Another recommended method is to place a large, flat cover over the pan, using a long handled fork to set it in place.

In order to prevent this type of fire, the Safety Council suggests that broilers, ovens and top-of-stove burners be kept free of grease, and that grease containers be placed far from stoves.

In 1966, home fires took the lives of 6700 people. Proper safety precautions could have prevented much of this tragic loss.

Right-of-Way Charge

Raymond L. Stephens, 1910 Skeen street, Madison, was charged with a right-of-way violation with a control present at East 23rd and Hall streets at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

UF Membership Meeting Feb. 20

An election of board members is scheduled for the annual membership meeting of the Tri-Cities Area United Fund to be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 20 in the YMCA, it was announced today by A. P. Steinhauser, president.

The nominating committee is headed by Joseph Glik. Following the election of directors there will be an election of board officers. Other officers at present are E. F. Reiske and Loren Davis, vice-presidents; George Eubanks, secretary; and Melvin McKay, treasurer.

Scouts to be Honored At Central Christian

Central Christian Church will observe Scout Sunday, Feb. 11. Pack 90, Troop 99 and Post 99, units sponsored by the church will participate in uniform.

Charters will be presented by Edward Lurton, institutional representative, and the God and Country Award will be presented to Duane Parrish, Herbert Cain and Monte Lyons.

Rev. James R. Craddock, pastor of the church, has chosen for his sermon the topic "The New Generation." Scouts and their parents are welcome.

Youth Charged With Trespass To Property

Madison police fired two shots over the heads of two youths who were fleeing from a stolen auto at 11:20 p.m. Monday. One youth fell to the ground, unharmed, and surrendered, but the other escaped.

The boy taken into custody was identified as Randall Keith Clubb, 18, of 106 Kirkpatrick Homes, who admitted 25 other auto thefts and burglaries after being transferred to the Granite City police station.

Clubb was released on notice to appear after being charged with criminal trespass to property. Police were attempting to determine the other thefts. The youth's companion was being sought.

Theft of the 1957 auto was reported by Larry Herzing, 2106 Lee avenue. The car was recovered in the 1900 block of Skeen street.

Madison police received a call at 11:15 p.m. that an auto ran into a field and almost through a house. Patrolman Ronald Grzywacz approached and saw the two youths get out of the car and run down an alley.

The officer ordered them to halt, but they refused and he fired the shots. After Clubb fell, he asked the officer to hold his fire. He identified his companion, police said.

Movie Projector Stolen

A 16mm movie projector was stolen from Washington school during the weekend, it was reported Monday. Entry was gained by forcing a basement window.

About $25 was stolen from a cash register in a burglary at Victor's tavern, West 20th street and Illinois avenue, it was reported at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by breaking a restroom window. An apron lying on the bar when the bartender left early that morning was found in the wash room covered with blood.

Fred Ybarra, operator of the Washington tavern, 2001 Washington avenue, reported at 12:50 p.m. Monday that someone took $62 out of a cash box behind the bar.

Two file cabinets were ransacked and damaged at the office of the Mitchell public water district during the night, it was reported to the county sheriff's office Wednesday morning. A pair of pliers was missing. The method of entry was undetermined.

Three windows and a door were pried but not opened as a large screwdriver was used in an attempted burglary at Branding's service station, Niedringhaus avenue and the railroad tracks, it was reported at 11:40 a.m. Tuesday. There was no entry. It was reported that previous unsuccessful attempts had been made to break into the station.

Burglars broke into the Andy Saska Service station on Broadway Monday night or early Tuesday morning, but left without taking anything. Entry was gained by breaking a window out of the front door. The intruders left through a rear door, police said.

Two concrete swan yard decorations were stolen from the front of the home of Frank Isbrecht, 3201 Aubrey avenue, during the weekend, he reported at 1:35 p.m. Wednesday. They were valued at about $15.

Virginia Pierce, 2600 East 24th street, reported at 3:50 p.m. Wednesday that during the night someone entered her garage, ransacked her auto, siphoned about 10 gallons of gasoline from it, and stole a box of band aids, a plastic raincoat and a windshield scraper from the glove compartment.

Robert Bodkins, 2224 Alexander street, reported at 5:20 p.m. Wednesday that a transistor radio valued at $18 and a camera valued at $25 were stolen from his auto while it was parked in front of his home during the night.

Herman Manley, 2774 Madison avenue, reported at 1:15 p.m. Monday that someone has been rifling his auto while parked in his garage at night. He said the garage is kept unlocked because of the size of the vehicle. Missing were a flashlight, several screw drivers and cigars.

County Hearing Friday for 11 Area Litterbugs

A hearing is scheduled for 1 p.m. tomorrow in the supervisors' room at the county court house for 11 persons believed to have dumped debris along Route 111 in the vicinity of Horseshoe Lake.

Assistant Granite City Supervisor Carl Buehler, chairman of the county board's Sanitation committee, said the subpoenas were issued based on evidence gathered at the scenes by a newly-employed county inspector.

In one case, Buehler said, the individual was traced through a discarded state license plate and the others through envelopes and other items in the trash.

"We're trying to determine if they dumped the junk along the highway and on private property or if they had hired the trash hauled away and some persons are trying to start up some scattered dumps.

"If we find the individuals did it, we plan to file charges, and if they agree to clean up the messes, we'll try to get the fines cut in half," Buehler added.

Sternberg Will Lead Scout Region Seminar

Gene H. Sternberg, Granite City building contractor and a member of the Boy Scout Region Seven board, has been named chairman of a regional adult scouter training seminar Saturday, March 2, at Bradley University, Peoria.

Council and district scouters will receive the latest information and techniques for district operation, finance, cub leader training and unit organizing. Assisting Sternberg as chairmen of training sessions in these categories will be Ivan L. Yontz, John D. Bawden, James M. Stewart and J. R. Davidsmeyer.

Venice Officials to ICC Hearing Tomorrow

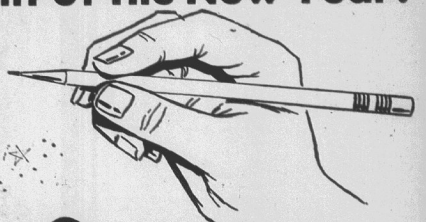

Venice city officials will appear again tomorrow before a hearing of the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield to continue discussion of the city's proposals that costs of building the Broadway underpass be reapportioned.

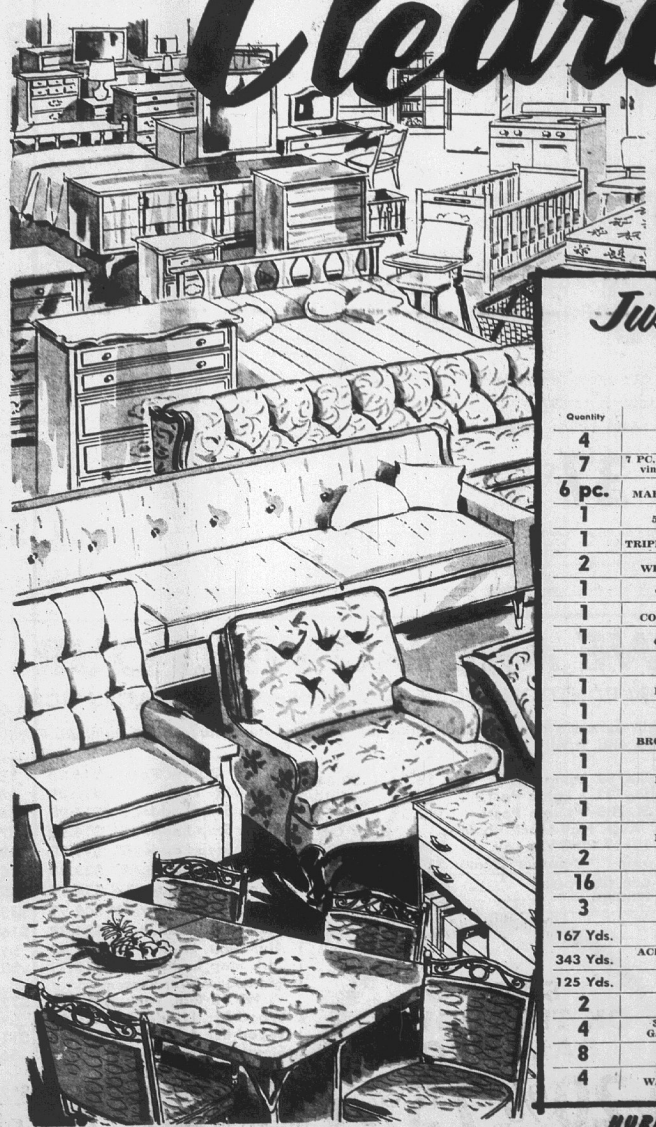

The hearing opened Jan. 18 but was recessed until tomorrow so that the three railroads that will use the top of the underpass structure may bring in evidence. Venice officials petitioned the ICC to increase the railroads' share of the underpass financing because costs of construction have risen about 10% as the result of a building delay caused by the railroads.

Brush Up On Arithmetic, Income Tax Official Urges

Springfield, Ill., district taxpayers are making more mistakes in arithmetic on federal income tax returns than any other kind of errors, according to Jay G. Philpott, Internal Revenue Service district director for central and southern Illinois.

Already, Philpott reports, 3900 returns have been held up at the IRS Service Center in Kansas City with errors in addition or subtraction.

He advises taxpayers that these mistakes can result in delay of refunds. When the IRS computers check a return's accuracy and uncover an arithmetic error, Philpott explained, the correction is made and a notice of the change is sent to the taxpayer.

Another of the major reasons for delay in issuing refunds, he said, is the failure of 736 taxpayers to include their correct Social Security number on the tax return.

770 Lack Signatures

Up to last week, 770 tax returns had been filed without the necessary signatures. These will have to be sent back to the taxpayers before refunds can be processed.

Returns filed without the required W-2 wage and tax statement or missing schedules which are causing refund delays so far total 2865.

And returns where taxpayers have used the wrong tax table total 2957.

The IRS Service Center in Kansas City as of last week had processed 7415 refunds of Springfield district taxpayers for a total of $1,096,478, Philpott said.

Main Change—Medical

Changes in the handling of medical expenses are about the only difference taxpayers will notice in the filing requirements for 1967 federal income tax returns.

Philpott said there are two major changes in the medical expense.

First, the medical expenses of those 65 and over are now subject to the same limitations that apply to taxpayers under 65. All taxpayers must now reduce medical expenses by 3% of their gross income. Such medical expenses include the cost of drugs and medicine which exceeds 1% of income. The excess over this amount is deductible.

Second, half the premium paid for medical insurance up to a maximum of $150 may now be deducted as medical expense without regard to the 3% limitation. The balance of the premium cost for medical insurance should be added to other medical costs subject to the limitation.

Life insurance and accident and health insurance covering the loss of earnings are not medical expenses and the premiums paid are not deductible.

These changes are explained in the 1040 instructions as well as the IRS Publication No. 17, "Your Federal Income Tax," Philpott said.

Braille Tax Instructions

Blind persons can also study the Internal Revenue Service instructions for preparing 1967 federal income tax returns, Philpott pointed out.

Form 1040 and Form 1040A instruction booklets in braille are available on a loan basis to blind persons.

Only a limited number of braille copies is prepared each year by the IRS; persons wishing to use an instruction booklet should request the booklet they need early in the filing period.

Persons may borrow such an instruction booklet by writing Public Information, P. O. Box 1468, Springfield, Ill. 62705 or calling 217-525-4124.

Heart Association Gives Warning on Apparent Fraud

Thomas E. Daniels, executive director of the Illinois Heart Association warned today that an apparent fraud is being perpetrated on the public through a fund solicitation being conducted through the mails by an organization described as the National Heart Fund Association.

He said, "The Illinois Attorney General's office has advised us that such an organization is not registered under the state solicitations act and is not legally authorized to solicit contributions.

"We want it clearly understood," said Daniels, "that this organization has no connection with the American Heart Association." He said, "It is a clear cut attempt to deceive the public into believing that they are making contributions to the Heart Fund, an honored and respected organization which has led the fight against heart and blood vessel diseases for years through research and education."

The Illinois Heart Association is an affiliate of the American Heart Association.

Daniels said, "We have no information as to the leadership of the organization described as the National Heart Fund Association or what its affiliation with any other organization may be."

Daniels said postal cards appealing for funds were mailed to southwestern Illinois communities from East St. Louis. He said, "One side of the card reads 'National Heart Fund Association' " and the other side reads, 'We have the know how Only the money is urgently needed.' " He said an East St. Louis address was listed for returns by prospective contributors.

Computers in Education To be Explained

Four nationally prominent experts on educational uses of computers will address a St. Louis "Symposium on the Uses of Computers in Education" Feb. 13 in University City, co-sponsored by the Central Midwestern Regional Educational Laboratory, Inc. (CEMREL) and the state departments of education of Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Illinois.

Several hundred persons, including local school superintendents and school data system personnel, as well as representatives of other regional laboratories, are expected to attend the symposium.

Detective Explains Helping Hand Program

Detective Joseph Nemeth of the Granite City police department and representatives from Logan and Washington PTAs joined members of the West Granite Youth Development committee at a meeting Monday evening in the home of Parker Hurst, newly-elected president of the youth betterment group.

It was explained an announcement was made last week by a spokesman for the group who reported Hurst was to be transferred to another community, thereby necessitating election of a new president, was in error.

Principal topic discussed was a "Helping Hand" program. Nemeth explained the project as a block-by-block program through which the homes of neighborhood residents are designated "Helping Hand Stations," where volunteer parents are willing to provide assistance, when needed, to children enroute to and from school.

Large emblems, bearing a "Red Hand" displayed prominently for youngsters to see, will identify homes selected for the program, Nemeth said. Committee members decided to promote the "Helping Hand" project through Parent-Teacher units in local schools.

Present at Monday's session were James Reynolds, a past president of Logan PTA, and Mrs. Virginia Marmion of Washington PTA who will report details of the program at their PTA meetings.

Other discussion involved plans to acquire a building in the West Granite area to serve as a youth recreation center and a fund-raising campaign, currently under way to cover operational costs of the center and related youth development programs.

Dependent Exemption Rules Are Explained

Five requirements must be met to claim an exemption for dependents on federal income tax returns, Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said today.

A dependent must (1) have less than $600 gross income, except for a child who is 19 at the end of the year or a full-time student during some part of each five calendar months of the year; (2) have received more than half of his support from the taxpayer; (3) not have filed a joint return with wife or husband; (4) be a citizen or resident of the U. S. or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone, and (5) either have been a member of the taxpayer's household for the entire taxable year or be closely related to the taxpayer.

In determining whether chief support was furnished for the dependent, it is necessary to take into consideration all funds used for the support of the individual, including nontaxable items.

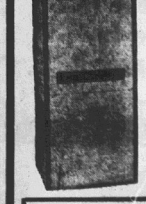

For example, social security benefits, unemployment compensation, etc., used for the individual's support, while not taxable income, must be taken into consideration in determining who furnished chief support.

Fairmount Jockey Club To Take on New Look

The Fairmount Park Jockey Club will have a new look when the horse racing season begins this summer, according to Kenneth Seymore, track superintendent.

The grandstand has seven new administrative offices, a new entrance and new paneling for the mutual windows, and the outside grandstand contains new siding.

The new entrance will contain 12 feet high gold grillwork. Old front gates have been removed and the area which was in the open air is now enclosed with paneling and glass. All the floors have been painted.

Seymore said that new closed-circuit television pay-off monitors will be placed on each level of the grandstand and club house to give instant results and payoff amounts.

The third floor is now under a roof and contains mutual windows, a cocktail lounge and concession stand and 32 new, open-air boxes.

A new barn and shed will provide 56 more stalls, and the barn area can now accommodate 1000 horses. The barn area will be painted to match the grandstand.

Seymore added that $80,000 has been spent to improve track roads and parking.

Two Minor Fires

Firemen were called at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday to the home of Roy Yount, 2612 East 24th street, where trash burning in the back yard ignited shrubbery, and at 8:20 a.m. Wednesday to the home of Frank E. Greathouse, 2237 Benton street, where his 1957 auto had a carburetor backfire. There was no damage.

Venice Teacher Substitutes Get Pay Increases

Effective this week, substitute teachers in the Venice school system will receive a salary increase of $5.50 per day, raising the daily pay scale to $25, with a further increase to $30.50 for substitute teachers employed by the district more than 20 consecutive school days.

Decision to give across-the-board increase to all substitute teachers, regardless of degree status, was one of several actions taken Monday evening by the Venice board of education.

About 22 Venice residents attending the monthly business meeting were welcomed by School Board President Michael E. Leatherman jr. Following the regular session, several parents sought clarification from the officials on problems relating to closing of Lincoln school and transfer of students to the Venice building.

Joint Special Education

In other action, school board members ratified a working agreement with Local 98, Building Employees Union; voted to enter a special education program with Granite City and Madison school districts through which expenses will be pro-rated for students enrolled in jointly coordinated special education courses; and agreed to participate in a junior college steering committee meeting this month.

The board granted the Special Services Division at the Granite City Army Depot permission to use the Lincoln school gymnasium for recreational purposes for military personnel, and sanctioned use of the same facility Sunday, April 28, for an annual missionary tea of the Quinn Mission Church.

Board Member Fred Durer, who serves as chairman of the personnel committee, was authorized to begin preliminary salary negotiations with Teachers' Federation Local 965.

Enclose Stairway

The board awarded a contract to the Leo Wolf firm to enclose a stairway entrance to the Venice school band room at a cost of $850.

In recommending the raise in substitute teachers' pay, Venice Supt. John O. Pier noted that increases recently were voted by the Granite City school district.

"It is difficult to secure the services of good substitute teachers now. If we lag behind in this area it will be virtually impossible to get them," he commented.

"Our district has always led the way in the matter of salary schedules and I strongly recommend we raise the daily pay scale on a flat-rate basis to all substitute teaching personnel," he said. He reminded board members that salaries of substitute teachers are not negotiated with those of the faculty members employed on a permanent basis.

Durer said he believes a teacher employed for a longer period of time is required to perform extra duties, such as preparation of lessons and test papers, as compared to one retained for one or two days. It was after his remarks that the board decided to increase salaries of substitutes who teach more than 20 consecutive days to $30.50 a day.

Expand Services

Supt. Pier explained that through the joint special education program, it is hoped to expand the instructional capacity and staff to nearly double the services now provided by all three districts in their separate programs.

Assistant Supt. Robert N. Vickers said the program will cover special classes for the educable and trainable mentally handicapped, socially maladjusted, blind and partially sighted, emotionally disturbed, speech and physically handicapped and those with learning disabilities.

He said cost of the program will be shared by the three districts, determined by the number of students enrolled. Various classes will be located in each of the three local school districts with reciprocal programs with other regions and counties also anticipated.

Junior College Meeting

Efforts to resubmit the junior college district proposal defeated in a special election last year will be discussed at a Feb. 14 meeting of the steering committee in the Madison county courthouse at Edwardsville.

Leatherman said election of a new committee chairman is expected, since the current chairman, Madison County Supt. of Schools Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, plans to resign due to other responsibilities. Leatherman, Supt. Pier and Board Member John Gonterman will represent the Venice board at the meeting.

A letter was read from Local 965, requesting that negotiating sessions be opened as soon as possible pertaining to new salary schedules. The current three-year agreement between the Venice school district and Local 965 expires May 22.

Miss Alice Purdes, Venice music teacher, was granted a leave of absence for the remainder of the school year, and the board authorized Supt. Pier to apply for and administer federal funds received under Public Law 874.

Custodian Agreement

The custodians' agreement with Local 98 adopted by the Board Monday night call for changes in sick leave and vacation benefits.

A pay increase of 15 cents an hour over the 1966-67 scale, also included in the new pact, went into effect last July 1 and was not a current issue. Negotiations started almost a year ago.

Union officers were said to be expected to ratify the new contract this week, a tentative agreement has been reached.

Changes in the vacation schedule include two additional paid holidays — Columbus Day and Maundy Thursday — the latter applying only if school is not in session. The new contract also on a graduated scale from two months' work (one day) to 12 years and over (four weeks).

Principal differences in sick leave benefits are in the amount of unused or accumulated leave to be paid at the time of retirement. The new agreement specifies half of remaining sick leave time will be paid after 15 consecutive years of service. Previously a fourth was paid to retirees.

Repair Work Approved

Discussing the $850 estimate by Wolf on the band room repair work, Supt. Pier said cost figures supplied by other contractors last year had estimated the work as high as $1100.

He asked the building committee to review Wolf's estimates. Following a discussion, however, board members voted to award the renovation contract.

Supt. Pier said the State Office of Public Instruction has published a brochure which details the Illinois vocational education program and includes information on the Granite City-Madison vocational center here. He said the new brochure will be displayed today at a meeting of federal and state officials in Chicago.

The administrator explained that the illustrated booklet contains a comprehensive picture of various courses available at the vocational training schools already established within the state.

Illinois Leads Nation

At present he pointed out, 3500 fulltime day students are involved in vocational education in Illinois, which leads the nation. The state with the next highest number of fulltime vocational students is Indiana.

Assistant Supt. Robert E. Vickers reported briefly on a conference he attended last week in St. Louis, dealing with vocational instruction. He said one such school at Sikeston, Mo., has a record of 87% placement of students following graduation.

While stressing that no guarantee can be made to place persons trained in a vocational school, President Leatherman said, "It is the feeling of the board that establishment of the Lincoln center can truly benefit many people in this community."

He added that "several industrial concerns have volunteered their people to instruct in the practical training needed. To get and hold a job nowadays, one must have training or experience. Through this school we hope to provide that training."

Comments to Parents

Commenting that Monday's board meeting was one of the rare occasions that a group of interested parents had chosen to attend, Leatherman said, "We are very glad to have you sit in our meetings."

"In past years, parents haven't shown enough interest in school affairs," the president said, adding that "we are more than happy to have anyone come to the board sessions, whether to speak out or listen. If this could have happened four or five months ago, I do not believe we would have the problems in the school district is facing right now."

Board Member Leo Davinroy told the parents, "Most people do not realize that school business is big business. We have numerous problems and complications."

Leatherman compared Venice city expenditures of approximately $400,000 to the Venice school district's operating budget of close to $1 million.

We have many more employees than the city and our budget is equivalent to the combined costs of operating the cities of Venice and Madison.

"We are trying to do everything we can—not just for colored students, not for white students—but for all pupils and parents in the Venice school district."

Joseph Henry, one of the parents attending the meeting, asked if any Negroes are employed in the nine-classroom construction project at the Venice school.

Leatherman answered that as far as he is aware there are none, adding "We cannot dictate to the contractor who he should or should not hire. I will mention that when the same contractor built the new recreational center down the street, he did have colored employees on that job."

Consultations Urged

Supt. Pier spoke at length on the need for more parents to hold consultations with school counselors.

"We urge the parents of our students, especially those in the ninth through 12th grades, to come in and discuss their child's education program and future with the counselors."

Most parents come in to see us only when a child is in some kind of trouble. We want you to tell us about his likes and dislikes and we can inform you about his aptitude, shown through the testing program, and discuss college prospects."

He said students wishing to continue their education at the junior college or university level must start preparing in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades. "It is useless to wait until the student is a high school senior. Different types of scholarships are available, but a student must start preparing for them early."

Discuss Federal Order

Rev. Leroy Henry asked a series of questions relating to the transfer of Lincoln students, especifically seeking clarification of the U.S. Department of Justice integration directive to the Venice school district.

Leatherman said representatives of the federal agency had told the board—"Integrate your school system. They also informed us that how we did it was our problem."

Explaining anticipated savings to taxpayers by the shutdown of Lincoln school and consolidation of all students at the Venice school, Leatherman said the $106,000 cost of the new construction at Venice may be offset in 18 months by not operating Lincoln.

Questions also were asked by a parent about a lack of heat in the Boy Scout building, presently being used as a temporary classroom for handicapped students. Vickers said such pupils had been transferred into the main school building during this period and that difficulties with the heating unit have now been corrected.

Gov. Kerner's Stepdown Surprises Local Demos

Announcement yesterday by Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner that he will not seek re-election to a third term this year "came as a surprise" to area Democratic leaders who had expected Kerner to make the race, according to Walter "Buck" Simmons, chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

Simmons said Kerner's decision will have no affect upon the political campaign in this area since Madison county and Quad - City area Democratic leaders are expected to support the candidate endorsed by the Illinois State Democratic Central Committee. The state committee is to meet later this month and in addition to endorsing a gubernatorial candidate, also will throw its support behind a candidate for U.S. Senator.

"Personally I was greatly surprised," Simmons said of the governor's decision. "I had expected him to be a candidate for re-election and I think a lot of other Democrats did, too."

Potential Candidates

Simmons said he has heard reports that Attorney General William Clark is bidding for the state endorsement for the governor's post, and that State Auditor Michael J. Howlett has been mentioned as another potential candidate.

Kerner announced his decision in a simple statement at a press conference in Springfield yesterday morning.

It said: "I choose not to run . . . my reasons are personal."

His decision gave rise to immediate speculation that Gov. Kerner will receive a federal appointment, most likely a federal judgeship in the U.S. Court of Appeals.

There also were suggestions that Kerner may be named Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare by President Johnson.

Democratic sources noted that it was significant that the governor discussed his decision with the President and with Chicago Mayor Richard Daley before making the announcement yesterday.

Gov. Kerner told reporters that the decision "is the most difficult of my life," but added that he "now must be as deeply concerned about the health and happiness of my family as I have been about the health and happiness of all the citizens of this state."

The governor said that he definitely will not be a candidate for U.S. Senator. Some political leaders had expected Kerner to make the Senatorial race in the event he did not seek re-election to the governor's office.

Simmons said today that the Madison County Democratic Central Committee will await action of the state committee before it meets to make endorsements for the approaching primary election on June 11.

Customarily the Democratic leadership of Madison county follows the dictates of the state committee and therefore is expected to align itself behind the gubernatorial candidate selected by state committeemen. Simmons said Democratic candidates at the county level also will be endorsed by the county committee in a meeting that will immediately follow that of the state central committee.

Madison county Democrats will have a stake in decisions of the state committee since they are backing State Sen. Paul Simon of Troy in his bid for the candidacy for the U.S. Senate. Simon has been making a state-wide campaign in his bid for the Democratic state endorsement. If nominated, Simon would oppose Senator Everett M. Dirksen whose term expires this year.

SIU President to Address Chamber on World Tour

The Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce board made plans Tuesday night to her SIU President Delyte W. Morris report on his latest world tour March 14, to honor retiring State Rep. Lloyd "Curly" Harris at a testimonial dinner this spring, and to join the Granite City Army Depot in sponsoring local observance of Armed Forces Week May 12-18.

Holding a monthly dinner meeting at the Depot Officers' Club, the Chamber directors learned that Dr. Morris will address one of a series of "world affairs" dinners being held by the Chamber SIU Liaison Committee.

Armed Forces Week activities may include a military ball, golf tournament, Depot open house, swimming meet and service club luncheons at the Depot. A highlight will be the annual Chamber military recognition dinner May 16 at SIU.

Legislative Role

It was decided to accept a U. S. Chamber of Commerce plan designating the Tri-Cities Chamber Congressional Action Committee as the "key committee" for this region in encouraging rapid response to legislative developments. Russell Crecelius is chairman.

A proposed sponsorship of a "careers day" program next fall was discussed and referred to the executive committee.

New or continuing studies include: junior college district, Community Relations committee headed by C. E. Blankenship; Granite City school tax referendum, Education committee headed by Dale Arnette; urban renewal, Long Range Planning committee headed by C. E. Townsend; and distributive education, Retail - Commercial committee headed by Al Amlung.

Transportation, Tourism

Henry R. Gabriel, transportation, land use and zoning chairman, reviewed present local transportation needs, and plans were made to cooperate in preparations for an eight-week Elks bowling tournament here this spring.

Participation in the U.S. Chamber annual meeting April 28-May 1 in Washington, D.C., was planned, and expanded contacts with the St. Louis Chamber were outlined.

The gathering of 35 included members of the Chamber Ambassadors, present to be brought up-to-date on current activities. Other groups are to be invited to future board meetings.

It was noted that Quad-Cities Gasoline Dealers have incorporated and formed a board of directors and that many Quad-Citizens are currently taking "practical politics" instruction.

The annual business-industry-agriculture banquet is expected to be held in the week of April 21-27.

A. O. Smith Corp. Submits 'Final' Contract Offer

A final contract proposal made by officials of A. O. Smith Corp. at 7 p.m. Monday is being discussed today in a meeting of company and Boilermakers Local 575 officials that started at 10 a.m. in the St. Louis offices of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Services.

A company spokesman said the proposal covers all issues, including wages and fringe benefits as well as the lesser items that had been discussed in earlier sessions with the mediation services.

The strike of 1200 Boilermakers today entered the 39th day, and a company official said that in the 39-day period the firm would have produced 72,000 auto frames. He estimated the production workers payroll would have amounted to a million dollars.

No meetings of the company and union were scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday as the union officials wanted time to study the company's proposal. Three of the union officers went to Kansas City yesterday to the International Union office to confer with Russell K. Berg, international representative.

They went over the contract proposal item by item.

Transit Study Gets $170,000

(Special from Washington)

The federal Housing and Urban Development Agency has approved a $170,000 "technical study" grant for the Bi-State Development Agency to finance the third and fourth phases of a rapid transit feasibility study, Cong. Melvin Price, (D) East St. Louis, told the Press-Record today.

Cong. Price said the money is to be used by the agency in completing a study as to the feasibility, the extent and the type of rapid transit system adaptable to the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area. The study has been under way for nearly two years and is financed in part with a Missouri state grant of $150,000.

Missouri legislation providing the state study grant is subject to renewal by the Missouri Legislature this year and is now before the special assembly session for action. The rapid transit study, being made in four separate phases, will cost an estimated total of $450,000.

Ralph Smith to Seek 8th Term in House

(Special from Springfield)

House Speaker Ralph T. Smith of Alton today announced his candidacy for renomination for his eighth term as a member of the Illinois House of Representatives.

Smith, a native Granite Cityan, will enter the June 11 Republican primary election to represent residents from the 55th House district which includes Granite City, Venice, Nameoki, Chouteau Collinsville, Wood River and Alton townships.

In a statement accompanying his announcement, Smith said, "I am sure my record for the seven terms I have served in the House is known to the voters of the 55th district. I hope they feel, as I believe, that it merits my re-election. I will appreciate the GOP nomination at the primary on July 11.

Smith was elected speaker from a field of four candidates in 1967 when the House convened in its 74th biennial session.

Police reported Edwards' car and one driven by Don Obert Nichols, Albia, Iowa, collided at the intersection. Nichols told police that when he saw Edwards's car he tried to stop but his car skidded on wet pavement. Edwards was admitted to the hospital after x-rays of skull, left hip and ribs.

William G. Smith, 61, of 743 Broadway, was injured when his auto collided with another driven by S. M. Harnetiaux, 3913 Gas Light walk, at 12:40 a.m. Wednesday at 23rd street and Madison avenue. Smith was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after chest x-rays were taken.

Dow Chemical to Build Arkansas Extrusion Plant

Dow Chemical Co., which operates a 14,000-ton aluminum extrusion press at its Madison plant, a announce of tentative plans today to expand its metalworking facilities with a new plant at Russellville, Ark., that will specialize in producing large aluminum extrusions.

Dow officials at the company's headquarters in Midland, Mich., said the new plant is planned because of expanding markets and therefore will in no way affect operations at the Madison plant.

Voters of Russellville will be asked to approve an industrial revenue bond issue of $20 millions to finance the new Dow facility and provide for possible further expansion. If the bond issue is approved, Dow would begin construction this spring with $17 millions from the sale of bonds.

To Employ 100

The remaining revenue bonds would not be sold unless the company decides to expand its operations in the future.

Dow's project manager for the new plant, Roger S. Chamberlin, said that it would be operational by the middle of next year and would employ about 100 persons.

Initially Dow plans to install a new 8000-ton extrusion press and related equipment to manufacture heavy-duty aluminum extruded products. Extrusions are produced by exerting tremendous pressure against an aluminum ingot and forcing it through a specially shaped die.

Dow is a leading producer of heavy aluminum extrusions at the Madison plant. Last year the company accomplished a manufacturing first by producing extruded wing spars for the 490-passenger Boeing 747 in record lengths of 105 feet.

13 Nameoki Twp. Areas Protesting Valuation Hikes

An organized effort is being made in 13 subdivisions of Nameoki township to encourage property owners to protest flat 10% and 25% assessment boosts announced by the Madison County Board of Review. Tomorrow is the deadline to file an objection with the board at the county courthouse.

Forms being distributed contend that a 10% lot assessment change and 25% increase on improvements were "made by the Board of Review in a manner not authorized by law."

It is asserted that such assessment is discriminatory because it fails to consider the full fair cash value of individual property and because "an increase of a selected subdivision in the township without a uniform increase throughout the township is contrary to law."

Hearings are being sought by residents of the Gorbe, Lakeview, Parkview, Town & Country, Edgerton Heights, Norwood, Evergreen, Arlington, Cedarview, Wilshire, Maryville Heights, New Haven and Dawn Place neighborhoods.

Only assessments completed since 1957 were included in the assessment raise affecting Nameoki township. Areas not raised include East Madison and State Park Place.

Labeling it an "unfair and unjust tax raise," the volunteers contacting home owners are informing them that "we intend to pursue this tax issue further, if necessary, by appealing to the State Board of Tax Appeals in Springfield."

Committeeman Opposes Village Incorporation

George Gibson, Democratic committeeman of Chouteau Precinct Four, informed the Press-Record this week that he is opposing incorporation of a village in that area. He acknowledged that he was contacted to support the plan, as indicated in an article Monday, and said he rejected the request.

Mrs. Ferd Segar recalled commenting publicly on a Granite City annexation proposal of Alderman Walter Nonn as a means of warning her fellow residents, but reported that she does not oppose Nonn or other individual officials. She said she also would object to annexation by Madison.

Nonn this week said Mrs. Segar telephoned his home this fall and visited for over three hours, asking for assistance in avoiding annexation by "Madison or any other district."

Two Youth Arrested

William Holmes, 17, of 1516 Market street, Madison, and a juvenile girl, 17, of Granite City, were arrested by a state trooper at 4 a.m. today on charges of a state curfew violation. Holmes also was charged with illegal possession of liquor. They were taken to the Granite City jail, and the girl was released later on $25 cash bail pending a hearing.

Released Without Bail in 2 Cases, Arrested Again

John J. Ballentine, 25, of 308 Washington avenue, Madison, was arrested by Madison police at 1:45 a.m. today, only a few hours after he had been released in magistrate's court on his own recognizance on a series of charges involving an attempted burglary in Granite City and the burglary of a doctor's office in Madison.

Police arrested Ballentine at Johnny Lewis' tavern, Fourth street and Madison avenue, where they had been summoned because of a fight. Officers reported that when they arrived one of the men had left the tavern, but Ballentine had just gone out a rear door. They said they found Ballentine hiding outside at the rear of the building.

He was booked on a charge of fighting. Police later arrested the other man, Carl W. Rice, 27, of 2807 Persing avenue, at another Madison tavern. He also was charged with fighting and was released this morning on a notice to appear for hearing Feb. 21. Ballentine was released at noon today on $50 cash bail.

Arrested in Granite City

Ballentine and Jerry Sidwell, 19, Alton, were arrested by Granite City police at 1:35 a.m. try, Wellington Heights, Norwood, Evergreen, Arlington, Cedarview, Wilshire, Maryville Heights, New Haven and Dawn Place neighborhoods.

Only assessments completed since 1957 were included in the assessment raise affecting Nameoki township. Areas not raised include East Madison and State Park Place.

Patrolman on Cycle Gets Helmet Ticket

A parking meter patrolman riding a three-wheel motorcycle was issued an arrest ticket by another patrolman for failure to comply with the new state law requiring all cyclists to wear state-approved helmets, it was learned Tuesday from Chief Ronald Veizer.

The hearing in magistrate's court is set for Feb. 27.

Chief Veizer said he had instructed parking meter patrolmen to ride the cycles after receiving data at a police chief's conference last month in which the enforcement date was listed for next September. "I've been advised now that the date printed on the brochure was in error," Veizer said.

The city ordered state-approved helmets for all motorcycle patrolmen a month ago, but they have not been delivered. The two-wheel cycle patrolmen have helmets that meet state standards. Orders for operation of the three-wheel cycles have been cancelled.

"The ticket will be processed through regular channels," Chief Veizer said. It was issued to Patrolman Rawmond Ridge.

Annoyance Callers Being Caught

(Missouri-Illinois Telephone Times)

One of the busiest offices in the company during the last six months of 1967 was that of Ed Umphres, security manager.

Umphres and his security personnel were called in on 115 cases involving annoyance calls.

Working with local police and telephone customers, 49 of the cases were closed. The result: four arrests and three convictions.

"It's becoming increasingly risky to be an annoyance caller," Umphres said, "because of the cooperation between law enforcement agencies, our customers, and employees, and the annoyance call law.

"Though annoyance calls are still a problem, we've made it clear that such callers will be dealt with sternly and we're apprehending them at a higher rate than ever before," he said.

One such case involves a young St. Louis man who was convicted of making more than 100 obscene telephone calls. He received a $215 fine and was sent for psychiatric treatment.

The man called women who had placed ads seeking baby sitters, and was apprehended after calling the same woman a number of times.

"He got her telephone number almost two years ago and called several times. He'd saved the number all this time before suddenly starting to call again.

"She notified the authorities and us, and the next time he called we traced the call," Umphres said.

Anonymous calls weren't the only cases handled by Umphres' security personnel.

They investigated 49 cases of credit card fraud amounting to $3682, and cleared 44 of the cases.

Also investigated were 183 cases involving suspects of fraudulent use of toll service by use of electronic devices; 162 of the cases were closed.

Any crime involving telephone equipment or service in the Missouri-Illinois area is fair game for Umphres and his group, which also aids other areas in cases.

During the last half of 1967, larceny involving coin telephones resulted in the highest amount of activity. Five persons were given jail sentences, and seven were paroled or given suspended sentences.

Two persons were acquitted, two were referred to military or college authorities, and eight were referred to juvenile authorities.

In all, 16 persons were turned over to juvenile authorities, six were convicted, nine paroled or given suspended sentences, five fined and six acquitted of crimes involving the telephone company and its equipment.

"Our employees and customers alike should be urged to notify authorities of all cases involving the telephone and criminal action.

"The policeman is our best friend when there's trouble. We try to cooperate with the police in every way possible," Umphres concluded.

Teeth Were Meant to Last Lifetime

(National Children's Dental Health Week report in the Granite City Army Depot Graniteer)

The late President Kennedy used it, as did President Eisenhower before him. Dr. Spock endorses it, as have the members of the scientific and health communities generally. But the public has, in many instances, rejected it.

The "It" is fluoridation, the most proven public health measure of all time and perhaps the most debated.

The American Dental Association has urged support of fluoridation, pointing out that it, combined with other preventive measures, can lead to stronger, healthier children and eventually to a healthier America. But 18,000 communities still do not have fluoridated water. (Fluoridation is to start in the Quad-Cities this spring or early summer.)

Pediatricians interested in preventing ill health are greatly in favor of fluoridation.

If a child from conception receives water which contains one part in a million fluoride, then it is known that the amount of decay of the teeth which he will experience during childhood will be reduced by 60%.

Forty million children still do not receive the benefits of fluoridated water. In communities where fluoridation is not possible, parents should discuss topical application of fluorides with their family dentist.

In topical applications, the dentist or dental hygienist paints a solution of fluoride on the teeth, giving a lesser benefit than would fluoridated water but still a substantial protection.

Many adults are frankly afraid of dental treatment, and their feeling is transmitted to their children. But this is a case where mother doesn't always know best.

Children are becoming quite sophisticated about dental treatment and accept the various procedures with an aplomb that startles their dentist-shy parents.

Dentistry has made such advances in the last decade or so in reducing the discomfort formerly associated with treatment that children who have never learned to equate dentistry with pain have no fear of it.

As one specialist in children's dentistry explains, "Pain can be a state of mind. We make dental treatment fun for the child and, above all, we don't kid him." The modern dentist tells the child what he is going to do and why—in terms a youngster can understand.

If the future of your own teeth is already past, please don't assume that your children's teeth are bound to suffer the same trouble. There is no reason they should, and every reason they should not. Teeth were meant to last a lifetime.

Great Future For This Community If Citizens, Leaders Make It Happen

The look into the future outlined by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission shows that this community can set and attain high goals if it adopts an imaginative, innovative approach and dares to venture onto uncharted paths.

The 20-year planning study discussed with Granite City municipal, park, housing and school officials notes that expansion is possible not only outward but upward, through the construction of highrise buildings.

It visualizes population and economic growth capable of bringing unprecedented prosperity and vigor to the Quad-Cities. The boldness and dimensions of such progress could result in a community so exciting, diverse and enjoyable as to defy comparison with other cities or with its own past.

In lifting one's eyes to the sky, it remains necessary to keep one's feet firmly planted on the ground. Planners are the first to admit that improvements do not happen automatically but must be earned, usually through a willingness to sacrifice a "sure thing" or a comfortable tradition.

The revitalization of downtown St. Louis, for example, included as essential ingredients governmental willingness to exercise redevelopment powers and modernize construction codes and business-industry willingness to risk large sums in capital investments.

The Quad-Cities can go far, but no farther than the vision and dedication of its citizens and leaders. A time to "think big" is at hand.

Issues Separating Smith Plant, Union Should Be Settled—Now

Having urged around-the-clock negotiations to settle the A. O. Smith Corporation-Boilermakers Local 575 contract dispute, we are happy to note that talks have been held almost daily and for periods of many hours, some extending late into the evening.

While the marathon discussions held in recent days are an encouraging development, news reports have indicated only limited progress and persistent concentration on preliminary or peripheral issues rather than the central points of controversy.

It has been said that an unpleasant task grows in difficulty when postponed but is usually simpler than feared if it is dealt with immediately and candidly. We suspect this has some application to industrial disagreements.

Both parties—and this community—will be better off if the negotiators now move rapidly in their talks to the heart of their differences. It must be faced eventually, and there can be no actual tactical advantage in further delay.

Illinois the Logical Location For Supplemental Airports

As Congressman Price says, it is highly questionable whether development of the flood-prone Columbia Bottoms area of St. Louis county as an airport would be a wise expenditure.

It is surprising that the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council reversed the unanimously negative recommendation of its executive advisory committee. Owned by the city of St. Louis, the site is so close to Lambert Airport that it might create landing pattern conflicts. Construction of necessary access roads and levees would make the cost prohibitive.

Mayor Cervantes is right in saying that there is not now "any legally constituted metropolitan authority to begin planning and constructing additional airport facilities." But he fails to add that St. Louis, which owns Lambert, has given scant encouragement to either East-West Council or Bi-State Development Agency in assuming general airport jurisdiction, which must include Lambert in order to have any chance of success.

With increasing overcrowding of the air lanes at those airports which handle major airlines' interstate flights, auxiliary fields for business and private planes are needed in many metropolitan centers. Bi-State now operates the Parks airport in St. Clair county and the East-West Council is conducting a feasibility study on whether it should assume responsibility for aviation planning.

We cannot help but believe that Illinois, with more space available and situated more conveniently to St. Louis than any potential Missouri locations, is the most logical place to direct overflow air traffic. And there probably is no financially feasible way to do this other than to merge the subsidiary field's control and revenue with that of Lambert; if not, the latter has insufficient incentive to divest itself of profitable business.

If an aviation body with adequate authority is created and concludes that Bi-State Parks and the Civic Memorial Airport near Alton need to be supplemented, new thought might well be given to the former Lakeside field, a 150-acre landing area ideal from virtually all standpoints, and surrounded by additional vacant property if expansion is desired.

Accurate Background Information Key to Governmental Decisions

Comments by Monroe Worthen in his letter resigning as Granite City school board president provide food for thought by taxpayers:

"Each board member has reviewed his agenda thoroughly and has come to meetings prepared so that routine business can be handled in a routine manner, thereby leaving adequate time to fully discuss unusual and difficult problems and still have time for committee reports. The superintendent and his administrative staff have prepared precisely detailed agendas and documented justification for recommendations."

Because the wisdom of any governmental decision is affected to an extent by the adequacy of the facts on which it is based, it is vital that elected officials have at their disposal the full picture rather than only a fraction of it. We suspect this is why the managerial form of government has been adopted by so many municipalities; the manager, like a school superintendent, is an administrator trained to not only carry out policy but to keep policysetters well informed.

The amount of time wasted by various official bodies in debates stemming from faulty assumptions or misinformation is staggering, based on a random poll of Press-Record newsmen who have been attending meetings of taxing agencies during the past several decades. Documentation for recommendations, as brought out in the letter, is a key to sounder and less frustrating transaction of public business.

Investing Choice--Stocks or Bonds?

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I've been buying a few stocks from time to time, but now that bonds are paying such a high rate of interest, it seems to me that I would be better off buying bonds and at the same time escape the mental wear and tear of watching the ups and downs of my stocks. Do you think I'm right?

A. You are correct that right now bond interest is considerably higher than the dividends from many stocks. And, historically, when bond yields exceed dividends, many investors do as you suggest—sell their stocks and buy bonds.

This used to be truer than it is at present, particularly among professional and institutional investors.

But, in the last 10 to 15 years, an increasing number of individual as well as professional investors have become aware that the combination of income and appreciation inherent in the common stock of growth of companies can give a better investment result over the years—even though the higher bond interest seems most attractive at the moment.

Right now, you may be able to buy a bond that will pay you 6½% on your investment as compared to a common stock that will pay you only 2% to 3% in terms of current dividends.

Say you bought at a discount a 4½% bond maturing in 10 years, paying only $700 instead of $1000 for it.

After drawing interest for 10 years, you would get $1000 for the original bond for which you paid only $700—in other words, a net return of $750 ($450 interest plus $300 appreciation) on your $700 investment, or a little more than 100% in 10 years.

10% Earnings Increase

Now, let's say you put $700 into stock of a firm that has a long record of increasing its sales and earnings per share at about 10% per year. This being true, it is likely in the long run the price of the stock will move ahead at about the same rate.

Your common stock might pay $250 in dividends in 10 years, although the dividend may increase in the last part of the 10-year period, so that you may receive $350 or so in dividends altogether. And, if the price of the stock has moved up at the same rate as sales and earnings, you'd possibly be able to sell the stock for about $1750.

Therefore, you're comparing a gain of more than $1300 in the value (dividends and price appreciation) of your common stock against a gain of $750 for your bond investment.

Now we come to the factor that should be the real determiner of whether you buy bonds or common stock:

In the case of the bond, the figures cited above should work out to the penny so long as the company remains solvent.

In the case of the common stock, you have no such guarantee. You have only the historical fact that, since it has happened before, it might happen again.

If a recession is in progress at the time you are comparing your situations in the two investments, the position of the stock may be much less favorable.

A growing number of investors are favoring stocks, even though the ineerest paid seems to be slanted in favor of bonds right now.

Bigger Risk Involved

These investors are taking a greater risk in hope of greater profit, and have often been vindicated in their view.

There are, of course, occasions where a person should prefer the more certain return available from a bond investment. For example, if you are a retired person living off the income on your investment, you need the greater security that bonds will give you.

The wise investor probably has a part of his money in bonds and a part in stocks.

Extra Tax Exemption at Age 65

Internal Revenue Service

Q—I've just turned 65. Will this make any difference as far as taxes go?

A—Yes, there are various benefits the law provides for taxpayers 65 years of age and over. These are explained in our publication, "The Benefits For Older Americans," Document No. 5569.

For one thing, taxpayers 65 and over are allowed an extra exemption because of age.

If you are presently employed and have taxes withheld from your wages, you may want to file a new withholding statement, Form W-4, with your employer to claim the extra exemption for age. Doing so will reduce the amount your employer withholds.

Your employer should be able to provide you with a copy of the Form W-4.

Q—I had problems getting my refund last year. What should I do to avoid similar trouble this year?

A—File a complete, accurate return. If you do, the time it takes to issue your refund will be about five to six weeks.

Major reason for refund delays was incomplete returns.

Over two million returns were received with a missing or an inaccurate social security number. Other common errors were failure to sign and failure to include W-2 statements.

Missing supplementary forms, such as those to claim the sick pay exclusion or a moving expense deduction, also delayed some refunds.

HIRING DISCRIMINATION DESCRIBED BY PARENT

To the Editor:

Due to a lack of opportunities, the Negro leaves states like Mississippi and come to states like Illinois, Michigan and others. But what he finds is some of the same thing that he has already left.

During my youth in Venice before and after world war II, many Negro youths left here because jobs and opportunities were not to be had by the Negro youth. So, many went to Chicago, Detroit and other big cities.

Just like Mississippi, this area seems to be trying to starve and freeze the Negro out in order that he might leave. Once he does, he will never come back.

Thirteen years ago during the summer vacation, my oldest son could not find a summer job. He did not want to walk the streets so, being a minor, we signed that he could join the Army. Seven years from now when he retires from the service, he will not live in this area because he has seen better opportunities many other places.

During the last few years, the excuse for not giving our youth good jobs was that they must have a high school education. Well, let me tell you what happened to me and three of my children who finished high school one after the other for three straight years.

Herman jr. went to SIU in Carbondale, East St. Louis and Edwardsville for three years. He had to work to help himself part of the time.

He worked as an IBM operator and then as campus policeman; he failed one subject and was put out for one term. During this time, he worked at McDonnell Aircraft until the draft board changed his classification. He immediately went into the Marines.

My daughter, Carolyn, went to a business school in Muskegon, Mich. This was as expensive as going to a regular college for three years. When she graduated, she could not get a job in Michigan doing what she had prepared for, so she came back here to find work.

A young Negro girl looking for secretarial, typing and office work is given tests; if she passes she is employed if she wants her to have two years of experience. Now how can an 18 or 19-year-old girl just out of school have two years experience?

If this Negro girl takes the test with white girls who have the same training and make a lower grade on the test, you know who gets the job? My daughter finally got a job doing some of what she was trained for, but the job cost her $100.

My daughter, Pam, after graduating from high school, wanted to take IBM key punch training and enrolled in a St. Louis school at $229 for four weeks. When she finished the course with a certificate, she went job hunting and was given interviews and tests. But someone else got the jobs. One employer refused her because she made a mistake and did not have two years' experience; she was only 17.

I kept these three children in school for a while at the same time and I was asked by my family doctor how and why I did it. I told him you have to get them educated while they are interested.

I felt that if the girls had to wait until the boy finished his education, they might get disgusted and not want to go later.

GOP NOT INTERESTED IN WORKING PEOPLE

To the Editor:

I read with great interest a Feb. 1 Forum letter, "Have People Forgotten Coolidge and Hoover?" It concerned President Johnson's State of the Union message.

It so happens that I am a world war I veteran and remember all he said that happened, commencing with the Harding administration, and can vouch for what he said.

I could add a lot of other things that the past Republican administrations have done to hurt the common man and help big business, but the majority of them have passed on, so I am content to let them settle things with their Maker.

But I want to remind the voters here in the Tri-Cities about the two Republican senators from Illinois, namely Senator Dirksen and Senator Percy—how they gave the cold shoulder to organized labor when they appeared here separately in recent weeks to speak to small groups of people.

So far as my knowledge goes, not one leader of organized labor was invited. But, instead, they had as honored guests representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the heads of most of the industries of the Tri-City area.

Both of them are complaining all over the country about the danger of our two-party system disappearing and how it would hurt the whole country. If such a thing should happen, I agree with them.

But it seems to me that both senators fail to remember that the railroad section worker's vote counts just as much as the president of a multi-million-dollar corporation.

I think that the Republicans would be well advised, if they really want to preserve and revive the two-party system, to quit turning a deaf ear to anything that labor asks of them.

I will admit that as a working man I am prejudiced against most Republicans.

I am nearer 80 than 70 years of age, and in my memory, the only Republican president who championed the working man's cause was Teddy Roosevelt. As punishment, the Republican party ditched him for that.

STOPLIGHT SOLUTION TO McCAMBRIDGE HAZARDS

To the Editor:

Your Feb. 1 editorial alerting the public to the extreme traffic danger at the McCambridge avenue-Edwardsville road intersection was well written.

As this condition is in the Third Ward, it has been of great concern to me since my election to office 11 years ago. I have repeatedly brought this matter up in council meetings.

The only solution to this problem is an electric signal. As McCambridge avenue is a state highway, decisions must come from Springfield.

Our city has made four requests to the state and all have fallen on deaf ears.

This intersection has been the scene of many tragic traffic fatalities throughout the years. Must we endure another "Maryville road catastrophe" to awaken them?

In summary, the Madison city council is on record as approving an electric signal installation and paying for it.

The state of Illinois for its own reasons refuses to allow that signal on the grounds it is not warranted at this time. It seems that only time will tell!

The Press-Record's alert attitude to this problem is most welcome. Please continue.

RESIGNATIONS BY FOUR COACHES CONDEMNED

To the Editor:

The resignation of four Madison high school coaches was a reprehensible act of cowardice at a time when the situation called for courage, leadership and understanding.

The young men who sweated, toiled, suffered on the basketball, baseball and football fields for their coaches were deserted by them on the battlefield of race relations.

So what if they broke a rule by skipping practice? It was to champion a cause—the right of their fellow Negro students to become cheerleaders and members of the school's color guard. The spirit of the law, therefore, was not violated.

Football players and other athletes can no longer be considered dummies; rather, they are young men identified with something that is more meaningful than a football—a just cause.

The four coaches should have defended their cause with a vigor equal to that expected of Negro athletes when they are playing a game of ball.

LIFE OF STUDENT AN INSPIRATION TO ALL

To the Editor:

This commentary in the High World of Granite City high school Feb. 2 accurately describes the late Ernest Clark Ell, 17, of 1533 Rodger avenue. It sums up the feelings of all who knew him:

"Of all the tragedies of life, none can touch the heart so closely as that of death. On Jan. 25, a fatal disease took the life of Ernie Ell, GCHS senior.

"For all who knew Ernie, he served to them as a guiding light, an example of true courage. Ernie's life was a constant challenge for him. Even with the amputation of an arm in July of 1966, due to his fatal disease, he succeeded in everything he set out to do,

"As a member of the Paddlers Pool diving team, Ernie accomplished dives of the highest difficulty. Not troubled by his disability, Ernie went on with his guitar and, together with a four piece combo-band, played for many parties.

"There wasn't anything Ernie wouldn't try, as he met every task as a new challenge and then set that task as a goal.

"Ernie was an active member of the St. John United Church of Christ Youth Fellowship and, as shown in the words of Rev. Paul Surbey, 'Ernie was an inspiration to the youth of our church and to all of the youth groups he came in contact with.' He also was a member of the DeMolays and was on the football team in his sophomore year.

"GCHS has a loss of a warm and humorous personality, but it also has a gain of great value for every student. Ernie has left an example we all may follow as a guideline in our future.

"Ernie's image leaves us all with the inspiration of meeting our problems eye to eye, of making our lives worthwhile and living every minute of them to the fullest, and most of all never to quit and give up, because Ernie never gave up.

"His image and memory will remain in the minds of all who had the reward of knowing Ernie."

City Oks Its Share of Park Sidewalk Cost

Granite City aldermen indicated Monday night they were ready to proceed with the three-way agreement for installation of a sidewalk across Wilson Park from Yale drive to 29th street for pupils attending Niedringhaus school.

The sidewalk has been discussed for several years, and the agreement involving the city, park district and school district was reached about the time the ice rink proposal was approved, causing a delay.

The city's share of the cost of the five-foot walkway is expected to be less than $1000, and sales tax money will be used. The park district will call for bids for the project. Authorization was given Monday night for an ordinance to be prepared for the transfer of funds.

7 Crews Patching Streets

Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Street committee, said Street Supt. Warfield currently is working seven crews to patch holes in streets caused by the rain, ice, snow, deep freezes and thaws.

"They're trying to catch up, but there was difficulty until the streets were dry. You can't patch a hole that's filled with water," the chairman said.

"We've received lots of complaints, and all we can do is ask the people to be patient."

Complains About Alleys

Alderman Poulos complained of conditions in alleys and suggested at least three cleanups a year. He also called for the city inspection department to keep a close watch on alley conditions, once a cleanup is completed. "That's the only way we can keep the alleys in good condition," the alderman said.

Supt. Warfield said he did not have the manpower to carry out three cleanups a year, and he commented there was little help in keeping the alleys clean after the work had been done.

"We get these complaints every year about this time," Alderman Basarich remarked, adding that the people will be pleased once the street department completes the job as it does each spring.

Alley Paving Proposal

A suggestion was made by Alderman Bartosiak that the city attorney and Street committee look into the possibility of working out an arrangement whereby property owners pay for asphalt paving materials and the street department do the work to pave alleys.

Complaint was made by Alderman Green of the conditions of the railroad crossings at 20th street and at 22nd street. He urged the Street committee to continue its efforts to get the repairs carried out by the railroads.

City Atty. Allen was asked to look into the agreement between the city and Army Depot on maintenance at the city's pumping station located on the depot grounds.

Alderman Moerlien, chairman of the Special Pollution committee, said there was an electrical failure at the sewage treatment plant last week and it was traced to the wiring at the pumping station. It is believed there is a 65-35% arrangement for the maintenance cost.

Distribution of Fines

Allen also was asked to study the magistrate court method in distribution of fines from charges filed by state police and the cases tried in the local court. Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the Finance committee, said he had been advised that on certain days the fines levied in the state police cases goes to the city and on other days to the county.

Referred to Civil Defense Director Victor Koenig was a letter from the U. S. Department of Commerce with an application for Granite City's participation in a radio warning tornado plan. Under the program, the city would need a tone-activated radio that would issue tornado warnings.

The city was advised by the state department of revenue that its motor fuel tax allocation for January amounts to $24,761.

Referred to the Police committee for study was a request from the state driver's license examining station staff, 1815 Edison avenue, for removal of three parking meters in front of the office to provide space for parking official vehicles.

ROLAND C. BAER JR., St. Louis, has been elected an assistant treasurer and assistant secretary of General Steel Industries, Inc., it was announced this week. Baer, who formerly was assistant to the treasurer, has been with GSI since 1966.

$50 Fire Damages Cleaners Heating Unit

Fire caused $50 damage to a stone heating unit at the rear of Nameoki cleaners, 2906 Nameoki road, on Monday, firemen reported. Cleo Lindsey was was listed as the owner.

Firemen also were called to to a grass fire at the rear of 2500 Lincoln avenue at 4:15 p.m. Monday. There was no damage.

Youths Mug Judge at Juvenile Conference

Chief Circuit Judge James O. Monroe received a personal briefing of juvenile crime on the streets while attending a juvenile court conference last weekend at the University of Colorado, he related this week.

While taking a stroll near his motel Saturday night, he was mugged by three juveniles estimated to be 16 to 20 years old. He said they came out of a side road and accosted him.

One grabbed him around the neck from behind and another began swinging a heavy leather belt with a large metal buckle.

The judge talked them out of robbing him or hitting him any further with the belt. He took out his wallet and gave them a few dollars, and they fled, he said.

Judge Monroe said the experience gave him a clearer understanding of what the conference was about. "I took the lab course," he remarked.

GC Redistricting Committee Studying Maps and Charts

The task of redistricting Granite City's eight wards into seven before the 1969 city election is under way, it was reported to the council Monday night by Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the special committee of seven.

Rutledge called upon all council members to submit their ideas on maps which he provided. He asked that they consider population and area in drawing ward boundary lines.

"Because so many aldermen live in one small area, this is presenting a terrific job, so we'd like to get your ideas."

The chairman said he plans to have the committee meet once a month until the matter is settled, "and I hope we can get the job done before budget time in July."

The change from eight wards to seven results from the city's lack of growth in population to reach the 50,000 mark that would qualify it for eight wards. A change in ward boundaries was made over two years ago, but eight wards were kept and a lawsuit resulted.

Rutledge said the next meeting will be March 11. Members of the committee are—Aldermen Dalles, Bartosiak, Polos, Basarich, Fry, Robertson and Johnson.

Petition to Rezone 11 Acres Near Wilson Park Estates

A petition for rezoning an 11-acre tract adjacent to Wilson Park Estates was submitted to the city council Monday night by N. H. Reinhardt, developer of the subdivision, and the property owners, Leo and Avery Schermer.

The request is for zoning to be changed from R-2 single-family dwelling to R-4 for duplex dwellings. It was referred to the City Plan Commission.

At the request of the Fire committee, headed by Alderman Fry, a state inspector is to be invited to Granite City to determine if trailer courts in the city are in compliance with space requirements.

Fry said a blaze in a trailer court last weekend caused difficulties for firemen who were unable to get equipment between the trailers.

Manpower Problem

He also reported that the police department is answering the fire department phone whenever there is a three alarm blaze and the fire houses are emptied. "This can cause us problems, and I suggest we look into the matter of manpower. We had two three-alarm fire calls last week."

The city was advised by East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. of the installation of a fire hydrant at 2810 Nameoki road, and requests were made for installation of four other hydrants along Johnson road and in the vicinity of Zippel avenue.

Notification was received from Teamsters Local 525 that it seeks to negotiate a new work agreement with the city for its members working with the street department. The request was submitted by William Doty, business representative, and Lonzo Smith, assistant business representative.

Several other communications Monday night included notification from the city of Madison that it was no longer using Granite City's dump, effective Feb. 1, and a notice from the East Side Levee & Sanitary District that it would permit the city to dump storm water in the Nameoki drainage drive and at Edwardsville road. ditch in the vicinity of Victory

253 January Accidents Highest in Five Years

A total of 253 traffic accidents was reported in the Quad-City area during January, reflecting a continuing increase in the area's accident rate. One traffic fatality and the injury of 131 persons resulted from the mishaps.

While the number of accidents was four more than the 249 reported during December, the number of injured during January was 20 more than the 111 victims reported in December. There were four fatalities in December, however.

The total of 253 mishaps is the largest number of mishaps reported for any single month within a five-year period, with December's total of 249 running a close second. In January 1967 there were 170 accidents reported in the area, with 89 persons injured and one fatality.

During January 1966, a total of 203 accidents was reported with 114 persons injured and two fatalities. January and December are seasonally high accident months.

In November, for example, area mishaps numbered 175, with 98 persons injured, but with three fatalities.

January Meter Income $4206

Parking meter revenue of $4206 during January increased $538 over December income of $3668, but dropped $194 below fines and fees collected in January a year ago, according to a report prepared by Compiroller Robert Stevens.

January income included $3400 in meter fees, compared to $2950 the previous month, and $806 in fines, compared to $718 fine collections in December. In January 1967 fee collections amounted to $3511 and fines were $888 for total revenue of $4400.

Meter revenue has increased during the past two years as the result of a continuous enforcement program by the police department. Fine collections for 1967 totaled $9860 compared to $1787 for the 1963 year, and $2540 for 1964. During 1965 fine payments amounted to $3611, but in 1966 jumped to $8454 as police began pressing for fine payments by violators.

Fee collections during the past five years have varied in only slight amounts. Fees received in 1967 amounted to $38,476 and were slightly less than the $38,857 received by the city during 1966. Both the 1966 and 1967 were an increase, however, over the total of $35,321 in fees collected in 1965.

Mrs. Ida Mae Roberson, 50, of 711 Madison street, Venice, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday, where she was taken by ambulance after falling through the front porch at her home.

She complained of pain in the back, neck, cheek, right hip, knee and wrist and both ankles. X-rays were taken.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Continues through Saturday

The Girl Scout cookie sale will be continued through Saturday with hundreds of local girls of the River Bluffs Council. The sale provides money for their own troop activities and council camp development.

In the River Bluffs Council, the council's entire share from the proceeds goes toward the support and development of six campsites. The last several years of cookie sales made possible the purchase of 1000 acres near Farmington, Mo.

District chairman, Mrs. Glen Yetter, pointed out, "This beautiful new camp makes our slogan, 'Great camps from little cookies grow' an actual realization. The camp is already in use and many of our scouts have visited the site. Also, a new camping lodge is being constructed at Camp Chan Ya Ta near Prairietown."

The traditional ordering of cookies is being conducted simultaneously by Junior, Cadette and Senior scouts in the council that covers an area of 5½ counties.

Five varieties are available at a cost of 50 cents a box that is to be paid when the cookies are delivered by the girls.

State to Send Out License Notices in '69

Plans are under way to send each Illinois passenger car owner a completed application form for 1969 registration of his car which need only be signed, notarized, any corrections entered and returned with the fee and the 1968 identification card, Secretary of State Paul Powell announced this week.

A return envelope will be included, and the forms will be mailed by Sept. 1.

The procedure is similar to that now in effect notifying drivers 30 days in advance of the expiration date of their driver licenses, and will be one of the first benefits realized from the computer system being installed for automobile registrations.

Draft of Air Law Changes Will Be Submitted to City

Authorization was given Monday night by Granite City council members for Prof. Erwin Hoelscher, technical secretary for the Air Pollution Control Board, to draft possible changes in the present control law to clarify definitions.

Hoelscher appeared before the council and said the present law is "fuzzy" and needs clearing in term definitions for proper enforcement.

He assured the aldermen that the draft will be presented to them for study before being submitted for adoption. He added that any changes would be in compliance with state set standards.

Also presented to the council by Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the Finance committee, was a bill for $545 from the Press-Record for publication of the city's air pollution control laws and amendments. "Someone said the clerk was not authorized to have them published and there might be a question over payment."

Mayor Partney commented that he had talked to the newspaper editor prior to publication of the two-year-old ordinance. "I asked him if he expected to get paid for it, and he replied that he did by the city or otherwise. It looks like it will be otherwise."

While the council approved the payment by a vote of 13-to-2, the mayor indicated he did not intend to sign the check. Opposing the payment were Aldermen Fry and Jarrett. Alderman Nonn was absent.

Army Depot and IUOE Settle Grievance

Cong. Melvin Price met with representatives of the International Union of Operating Engineers and Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, commanding officer, Granite City Army Depot, for the purpose of settling a grievance that has been pending at the Granite City Army Depot for approximately 18 months. The IUOE has exclusive recognition at the Depot.

Leo Bachinski, regional director of the IUOE, arranged the meeting with Cong. Price to discuss a dispute involving laborers performing processor's work. As a result of this discussion, the matter appears to be solved to the satisfaction of all concerned, it was reported.

Attending the meeting were Cong. Price, Col. Hoskin, Gene Jotte, assistant to the Congressman, and officers of the IUOE: Bachinski; A. Golsch, business representative; George Krpan, chief steward; Leonard Giles, assistant chief steward; Richard Kuhe, secretary; and Wilbert White, shop steward.

Mr. Austin retired from the railroad in 1952, after being employed with Illinois Traction and its successor, the ITR, from Oct. 28, 1915. He was widely-known as "Pat" by passengers on the local run. He had resided in Granite City from 1912 until moving to Providence upon retirement.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. William E. (Peg) Ogden of Granite City, Mrs. J. R. (Sybil) Jones of Collinsville and Mrs. John (Cecil) McGaw of Providence; six grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

GC Buys 5 Fords For Police Dept.

A bid of $9545 by B. E. Hohlt, Inc., for five Ford sedans for the police department was accepted Monday night by Granite City council members. The amount is to be transferred from the parking meter reserve to the police account to pay for the new cars.

Alderman Whitmer, chairman of the Police committee, said a lower bid of $9101 for five Rambler sedans was submitted by Brewer Motor Co. but was not accepted because the autos did not meet wheelbase specifications.

An ordinance is to be prepared for the transfer of the funds. Whitmer had sought a legal opinion from City Atty. Allen before calling for the transfer. Allen noted that parking meter funds are to be used for maintenance of the meters, but no restrictions are placed on what can be done with any surplus.

Four of the five autos are to be used as patrol cars and the fifth will be assigned to the traffic-juvenile division of the police department.

Madison Officer, Dog Route Office Thieves

Madison police dog Sir Kelley and his handler, K-9 Officer Ronald Grzywacz, apparently frightened burglars out of the Venice township office, 1500 Fifth street, Madison, where the thieves had stacked about $1500 worth of office equipment near the door to be hauled away, according to a Madison police report released Monday night.

Grzywacz reported that he was patrolling the Madison downtown area on foot with the police dog when he discovered a small hole broken in the glass of the office door, which enabled the burglars to raech inside and unlatch the door lock. The dog searched the place for intruders who had fled.

The officer said an electric typewriter was on a chair by the door and two others had been placed on a desk near the door. There were pry marks on one of the filing cabinets and a filing cabinet in a back room was open. Arthur Moore, supervisor of Venice township, was called to the office. He told police that apparently nothing was taken.

Social Security Protection For the Younger Worker

By RALPH BRASHER
Of the Social Security Office

New protection for the young worker and his family stands out among the new provisions in the social security law for the disabled.

For young workers who became disabled before they had a chance to work under social security for at least 5 years, a new change in the disability benefit provisions is a boon.

For benefits to be paid to a disabled worker and his dependents under the old law he needed social security credits for at least 5 out of the 10 years before becoming disabled. Now, if you become disabled between 24 and 31, you need credits for only half the time between age 21 and the time you became unable to work. If you are disabled before you reach age 24, you need only 1½ years of work under social security out of a 3-year period ending when your disability began.

Benefits under this new provision are first payable for the month of February 1968. About 100,000 people—disabled workers and their dependents — are eligible. An estimated $70 million in additional benefits will be paid out in the first 12 months.

The new law colld mean benefits even for some people who have recovered from their disabling condition, or if they were denied benefits previously because they lacked enough work credits. You should seek more information at your social security office at 650 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis, if you think you qualify.

Deadline Next Week

Expect Over-Counter Plate Sales to Jump

A sharp pickup in over-the-counter sales of auto license plates at First Granite City National bank and the Granite City Trust & Savings Co. is expected as the deadline for display of 1968 plates on vehicles draws near.

Motorists must buy and display the new plates not later than midnight Thursday, Feb. 15. Those who fail to do so will be subject to arrest and a fine which can be as much as $100, according to the office of Secretary of State Paul Powell at Springfield.

At the present time, Powell said, there is no assurance that plates applied for by mail will reach car owners in time for the deadline.

Although applications are being processed faster than in previous years, the plates are classified as third class mail which may result in a two to three week interval from the time the application is received until plates are delivered.

There are few chances to hook a ride on the road to success.

Midnight Switch To Flasher Lights To be Requested

A switch to flasher lights at the traffic signals on Nameoki road at Johnson road and at Pontoon road after midnight was recommended Monday night by Granite City Eighth Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes.

The alderman said he was driving home late over the weekend and saw the inconvenience to the few motorists who must wait for the light to change when there is no other traffic.

"I notice that in the downtown area the switch to flashing is made late at night, and I don't see why it can't be done along Nameoki road."

He asked that a letter be written to the state highway department seeking permission.

S. Nameoki Rd. Lighting

Lighting along the south section of Nameoki road, now in the process of being widened and improved, was outlined by Alderman Basarich, chairman of the Light committee.

Instead of 131 lights of 20,000 lumen, there will be 139 to improve the lighting at the intersections with East 23rd street and with Edwardsville road.

Basarich also explained that the telephone company is installing a new line of poles along that section of Nameoki road and that the poles can be utilized for the street lights at a savings of $150 a month to the city.

He said about 78 wooden poles would be used and the remaining poles would be concrete, similar to those along the north section of Nameoki road. Authorization was given for changes to be made to the ordinance covering the agreement between the city and Illinois Power Co. for the installation.

Alderman Fry asked if some of the lights couldn't be installed immediately on existing wooden poles. "It's dark in several areas along the road now, and just the other day a boy was hit by a car by Kirkpatrick Homes."

Basarich said he would confer with officials of the power company.

Negro Population of Madison County Approaching 15,000

(Special from Washington)
BY LAWRENCE SULLIVAN

Madison county shows a small but steady gain in its Negro population, and may record a 15,000 total for the 1970 census, according to new county-by-county surveys from the U.S. Census Bureau.

In 1950, Madison county reported 9532 Negroes in permanent residence; for 1960, a total of 11,933—making roughly 5.3% of her total population of 224,689, the official count for that year.

Madison county's total growth since that census is estimated at roughly 27,000, but there is no percentage estimate for the new total as of 1968.

Heavy Gains Elsewhere

Excluding Cook county (Chicago), the combined Negro population of Illinois (the remaining 101 counties) is about 176,000.

This is 3.5% of the total population for those 101 counties.

Madison county reported an increase of 25.2% in her Negro population for 1950-60, against 65.3% for Cook county; 120.9% for Winnebago county (Rockford); 102.4% for Will county (Joliet); 76.8% for Rock Island county (Moline); and 61.8% for Peoria county (Peoria).

Surge to Cities

Apart from Chicago, the Negro population of Illinois, in statewide terms, is falling off gradually but steadily over vast areas, and will approach zero in 54 different counties by the 1970 census.

The rampant Negro surge to the big cities in recent years accounts for a steady, or declining, Negro population in well over half of Illinois' 102 counties.

Although the greater Chicago area now counts more than one million Negroes, and roughly 16.8% of the total Cook county population, there still are 54 counties which have fewer than 100 Negroes each, for a combined total of 1095)—(and an additional eight counties with fewer than 200 Negroes each, for a combined total of 1051.

Social scientists the world around are agreed that racial friction almost never develops where the Negro population is approximatly 10% or less.

Cook County Record

For all of Illinois as a unit, the Negro population jumped from 645,980 in 1950 to 1,037,470 in 1960—an increase of 391,490, or 60.6%, as compared with a Negro increase of only 25% for the nation at large in that decade.

But Cook county accounted for 340,167 of the Illinois increase, leaving a net increase of only 51,323 for the remaining 101 counties for ten years (from 125,001 to 176,324), or an average increase of 4.1% a year. This works out to an increase of 5132 a year by actual Census count.

Here are 26 counties which show a combined Negro population of 92 persons, including Wabash, the only county in the state to report no Negroes in the 1960 tally:

Wabash	0
Calhoun	1
Cumberland	1
Monroe	1
Platt	1

War on Poverty Attraction?

Government scientists are at a loss to account for the determined Negro rush to the big cities since the war. Some ascribe it to more job opportunities in the metropolitan areas.

Critics, on the other hand, speculate that millions of Negroes are being drawn unwittingly to the suffocating city ghettos by soft and extravagant relief programs, by promises of cheaper public housing, and by other alluring promises of the costly, yet stumbling, war on poverty.

Once in the city, however, the unskilled and untrained country Negro lad is frequently lost—jobless, without trusted friends, a total stranger in a rigid and demanding new environment, and usually flat broke.

Crime in the streets often is the first lure for the chronically unemployed—even a little fling, perhaps, as a dope pusher in the neighborhood high schools.

Some Decreases

Out of 102 counties in Illinois, 54 reported a net decrease in Negro population between 1950 and 1960, and the other 48 reported varying increases for the decade.

St. Clair's increase was 13,291 or 26% of the Illinois total outside of Cook county. Madison county accounted for only 2401 of the increase—or 4.7%.

The new census summaries tabulate the official racial count for each of the 3016 counties in the U.S., with estimated projections in many cases through 1985.

Today, Pulaski county is first in Illinois with 36.2% of Negroes; Alexander, second with 33%; St. Clair, third with 18.2%; and Cook, fourth with 16.8%.

Pike	10

Hardin	16
Edwards	17

The above 47 counties in Illinois present a combined Negro population of 584.

New York, Washington

New York City reports a current Negro population of 1.6 million, the largest for any city in North America, Europe or Asia.

Only six states now have more than one million Negroes—in this order—New York, Texas, Georgia, North Carolina, Louisiana and Illinois. California is seventh with 983,916, and heading fast for her first million before 1968 is ended.

Washington, D.C., reports 63% Negro population and New York City, 23.4%.

A third group of Illinois counties, seven in number, report fewer than 100 Negroes each:

Ford	55
White	62
Pope	70
Clinton	75

Total for these 8 counties	1051

Rate of Growth

In all, there are 76 counties in Illinois which have less than 2% Negro population. For the entire 101 counties outside of Cook, the combined Negro population is but 3.5%, as compared with the overall state average of 10.3% and the national average of 10.5%.

For all 50 states, the white population is increasing by 1.33% a year, and the Negro population by 2.22% a year.

By such projections, the total U.S. Negro population, counted at 19:59% for 1960, will hit 12.3% for 1970 and 14.1% for 1985.

"Negro families averaged 4.34 persons, compared with 3.64 persons for white families," the Census Bureau reports.

For January 1968, the U.S. population is officially estimated at 200 million, with 175 million whites and 25 million Negroes, or 12.5%.

Rate Accelerating

Such minute fractional variations are tolerable in estimated Census projections. In many population equations, long-range estimates cannot be measured precisely within 2%, owing to variable health factors.

Nevertheless, all the figures available, from whatever source, indicate that our Negro population currently is increasing a bit faster than any of the earlier Census calculations anticipated.

Laws, rules and regulations in Washington can never solve this urgent and pressing population problem.

It is a difficulty which only the people directly involved can relieve or correct, and that only by their own self-descipline, social morality and enlightened conduct.

Looting, burning, pillage and marching rioutously in the streets never can bring the solution all America so fervently petitions in her daily prayers.

Airman Dennis B. McBrian, son of Mrs. Mina A. McBrian, 2723 Harvey place, has been graduated from a U. S. Air Force technical school at Lowry AFB, Colo.

He was trained as a materiel specialist and has been assigned to a unit of the Tactical Air Command at Luke AFB, Ariz. The airman is a graduate of Granite City high school and his father, William D. McBrian, resides at 2616 Center street.

Morris Lauds Results Of Asiatic Teachers

Southern Illinois University's educational training efforts in Asia are beginning to pay off in terms of better teachers and badly-needed technicians, according to SIU President Delyte W. Morris.

Back from a three-month world tour, Morris said at a press conference Monday that the university's image abroad likewise has been solidly established in the past six years.

"Our mission in Vietnam (where SIU teams work with grade school teachers and teacher-training institutions) has been very effective, and a continuing stream of Vietnamese teachers to our campus and back is strongly influencing the educational system there, Morris said. "It is heartwarming to see how the Vietnamese educators feel about us; it is a combination of comradeship and assistance."

BARBARA SETTLE

Former GC Student To Visit So. America

Barbara Settle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Settle of Moberly, Mo., former Granite City residents, will visit Cali, Columbia, this summer under the sponsorship of the Lions International youth exchange program/

On her six-week South American trip she will be the guest of the Cali Lions Club. The program is designed to promote better understanding between countries by person-to-person contacts.

The girl, who will be 17 next month, is an 11th grade student in the lower division of Moberly Junior College. She moved here in 1965. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Settle, 28 Devon Hill lane, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rogers, 2511 Washington avenue.

SIU Prof 'Free Wheels' To Combat 'Bigness'

Melvin Kahn teaches government courses to some 200 undergraduate students. "It's a pretty impersonal relationship with that many students," Kahn said, so he arranged for the use of a meeting room in the University Center from 4 to 5 p.m. each Monday. Now he holds a weekly informal discussion session there, on a free-wheeling basis.

"The students get to know me better," he said, "and the discussions become most interesting, anything from 'black power' to prospects for big-time football."

An expert on labor politics and pressure groups, Kahn served as a legislative assistant to the chairman of the house labor committee in the Indiana General Assembly. He received his Ph.D from Indiana University and taught at Indiana State University before coming to SIU in 1965.

Kahn is presently working on a book on state labor politics. Last summer he traveled extensively talking to top labor union leaders throughout the country.

Family Living Students at VHS Teach Nutrition

By SUSAN STERN

The Venice high school Family Living class, consisting of all seniors, conducted a project in student teaching for two days recently in the grade school.

After a copious amount of preparation and research, and armed with plans and teaching aids, they presented their topic, "Nutrition and Its Importance," to the fourth, fifth and sixth grade students.

The objective of the project was to create an awareness of the importance of nutrition and the values to be derived from eating balanced meals. Another reason was to permit high school students to benefit from teaching experiences.

Mrs. Hazel M. Smith sponsored the activity and reports that though most of the students seemed nervous, they nevertheless enjoyed and benfitted from the total experience.

Perfect Attendance

Fifty-nine Venice high school students maintained a perfect attendance record during the third six weeks period. They are:

Seniors Roland Cagle, John Gardner, James Miller, Mary Mulnik, Kathleen Pace, Roger Peach, Larry Puent, Leonard Scaturro, Patricia Sitton, Jean Svezia, Russell Turner, Gary Wallace, Ruth Welch, Stanley Williams and Robert Young.

Juniors Belva Blakely, Charlesetta Dumas, Robert Foley, Estella Jennings, Judy Johnson, Brenda Martin, Donnie Spiller, Arie Walker, David Welch and Gary Woods.

Sophomores Barbara Bailey, Calvin Barritt, Connie Boeworth, Kathy Bradley, Robert Coleman, Harold Gonterman, Barbara Hackney, Regina Harris, Marvis Hoults, Joseph Johnson, Clifton Jones, Jerry Jones, Patricia Mosby, Rosa Narvaez, Robert Nash, Carolyn Owens, Alfred Pace, Donna Ray, David Scaturro, Kathleen Scaturro, John Williams and William Young.

Homemakers Plan Public Bake Sale

Proceeds will be used for future needs of the chapter. The faculty sponsor on the project is Mrs. Hazel Smith.

Researcher to Collect Moths in Philippines

Eastern Illinois University's unpaid and energetic collector of butterflies and moths will soon be on the wing again.

Douglas Marsden, research associate in the department of zoology, is leaving this week for the Philippines where he plans to tap a virgin source of lepidoptera (butterflies and moths), beetles, and "everything else I can find."

Marsden will beat the rain forests on Masbate Island, near Luzon, for his specimens. One of Marsden's colleagues in the Lepidoptera Society, a teacher in San Carlos University in Cebu, suggested a group of islands for his latest endeavors and Marsden selected Masbate.

Marsden, who has a fulltime position as regional cargo sales manager in Chicago for Sabena Belgian World Airlines, does his collecting at his own expense on vacation periods. It was his hobby, together with a prior and information association with Eastern that led to his appointment as research associate two years ago.

$45,000 Grant to SIU For Summer Institute

The National Science Foundation is providing a $45,000 grant to Southern Illinois University for its first Summer Institute in Earth Science for secondary school teachers.

David L. Jones, SIU associate professor of geography and institute director, said the eight-weeks program will start June 17 at the Carbondale campus. Stanley E. Harris jr., SIU geology professor, is the associate director. Other staff members will include Roger E. Robinson and Harold R. Hungerford, both at the Carbondale campus.

Enrollment will be limited to 35 teachers who have had at least three years of experience and who have taught at least one science course. Jones said that, before admission to the institute, the teacher must be required to teach earth science in the next school year by the principal or school board of his school.

Unusual Student Jobs at SIU-SW Campus

The older generation often worked its way through college cutting grass, sweeping floors and washing dishes. These are still good methods, but at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus students have found some rather unusual ways to finance higher education.

A glass blower, an orchid grower, a snake feeder and a builder of exhibits on the dangers of drug addiction are among 1013 students working for the University. Two hundred seventy-four students are included in the federal work-study program under which the government pays 85% of the wages up to 15 hours per week.

The University Center is the largest single campus employer, with 149 students working. The Physical Plant department is next with 119 students working, primarily as custodians for the growing campus. Lovejoy Library has 128 students working as checkers, binders and students work in the audio-visual center, checking out projection equipment and keeping records on a large collection of films, tapes and slides.

Long Educational Day

Very few student workers are able to devote more than three or four hours a day to their campus jobs. For this reason, and also because the educational day runs from 7:30 a.m. to 10:20 p.m., it is necessary for the University to employ larger numbers of students than would be the case if they were full-time workers.

The annual payroll for student workers at Southwestern campus now tops $1 million. It will take another jump this month when hourly rate increases for beginning workers take effect.

TICKLISH TASK of measuring properties of substances taken from frogs' eyes is the part-time job of Jo Ann Podgajny, junior biology major from Granite City, at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Among unusual job holders:

David Kinder, junior physics major from Golden Eagle, puts in seven hours a week as a glass bender and blower for the physics faculty working with Prof. M. A. Hakeem. Physics experiments often require modifications in standard laboratory glassware, and it is to SIU-SW's advantage to have a student worker who can make these modifications.

Robert Taggart, senior psychology major from Shelbyville, makes displays for the Center for the study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections. His latest display is on the dangers of drug addiction and will be shown soon in Chicago.

Frog's Eyes, Snakes

George Heth, Granite City freshman, feeds and cares for snakes and mice used by the biology faculty. Alan Gettleman, Granite City freshman, grows flowers in the greenhouse used by the same faculty.

Student workers are essential to the successful operation of the University, Philip L. Eckert assistant director of student work and financial assistance program, says. "Without the aid of these students, most of whom are exceptionally good workers, the University would not be able to maintain such a broad program of education and service," he says.

Southern Illinois University's low tuition rate, combined with the work and financial assistance program, helps make a college education a reality for many who might not otherwise be able to finance university training. And for some, student employment can be unusual as well as profitable.

525 Youths Attend Last 'Y' Teen Town Dance

More than 525 youths attended the YMCA Teen Town Saturday night to listen and dance to the music of the Rising Sons. The band made its first appearance at the "Y" since November and is to return in April and May.

The Bossmen will be at the "Y" this Saturday for the dance scheduled from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Sharon Rouland Chosen Tomorrow's Homemaker

Because she ranked first in a written homemaking knowledge and attitude test given senior girls in Granite City high school Dec. 5, Sharon L. Rouland becomes 1968 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for her school.

She remains in contention for state and national scholarship awards ranging from $500 to $5000 and will be awarded a specially designed silver charm to mark her local achievement.

A state Homemaker of Tomorrow will be selected from winners in high schools in the state in the program's next step. She will be awarded a $1500 scholarship, with a $500 award going to the runner-up. The school of the winner will be given a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Following her selection, the state homemaker, along with a school advisor, will join winners and advisors from each of the 49 other states and the District of Columbia in an expense-paid educational tour of Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Minneapolis, where the trip will climax with naming the 1968 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Jack London Newsletter Started by Librarian

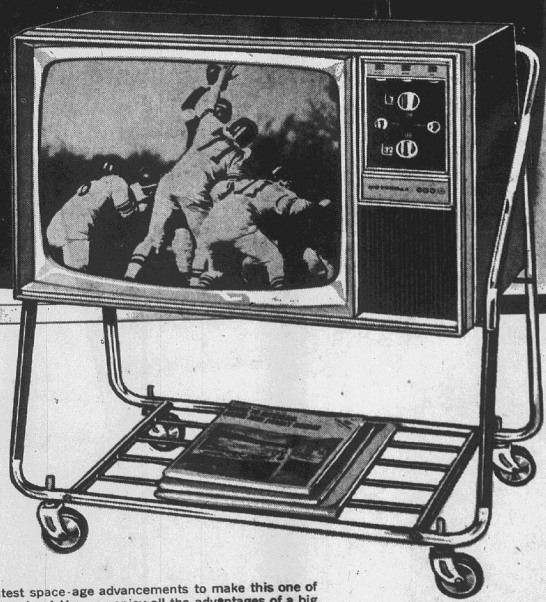

A Southern Illinois University librarian has become so entranced with an early 20th century literary naturalist who wrote novels and short stories about dogs that he has started a Jack London newsletter.

Oddly enough, Hensley C. Woodbridge is a specialist on Hispanic publications and is employed in the Morris Library at the university's Carbondale campus as a Latin-American bibliographer. He is also an associate professor of foreign languages.

He got started on Jack London, author of "The Call of the Wild," "White Fang," and numerous stories with a Klondike setting, when he co-compiled a bibliography of published material by and about London that ran to 422 pages when published in 1966.

Exchange Student from Brazil Studies at VHS

by SUSAN STERN

There is a new student attending Venice high school. His name is Ruy Azevedo Sodre Sabrinho. He is the 17-year-old son of Rosa Azevedo Sodre from Sao Paulo, Brazil, and is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rankin and family. Mr. Rankin is one of the industrial arts teachers at VHS.

Ruy is one of seven children. He has three brothers, Antonio Candido Azevedo Sodre Filho, Pedro Paulo Azevedo Sodre and three sisters, Candinha Azevedo Sodre, Rosa Maria Azevedo Sodre and Maria Beatriz Azevedo Sodre.

Ruy is attending school here while on vacation from his school in Brazil. He is in this area for a few months stay.

He is studying to be an economist and has taken Portugese, chemistry, physics, mathematics, political science, art, physical education and English.

While attending Venice he is participating in classes of American government, sociology, English IV, industrial arts and a special English class with foreign language instructor Robert Hendrickson. Ruy previously had three years of conversational English.

The young Brazilian says he likes America and he finds the people here quite friendly. While on a previous trip to America, he was in San Francisco. Enroute to St. Louis, he stopped in Miami and Cincinnati.

Ruy is interested in such sports as soccer, volleyball, ping pong, ice skating, roller skating, basketball, bowling and baseball. He is on soccer and volleyball teams in Sao Paulo. He likes to watch the cheerleaders because they do not have cheerleaders in Brazil. Everyone cheers together.

Even though it is much colder in the United States, Ruy doesn't seem to mind the weather too much and has come to like the snow.

Some of Ruy's favorite foods are rice and black beans, hot dogs, hamburgers, steaks and cheeseburgers. He enjoys staying with the Rankin family and says they are very hospitable people.

The students at Venice high are very glad to have Ruy at school and is a person the students will never forget. It is a great experience for both Ruy and the faculty and student body of Venice high school.

A Love Note To Dad
Oh Lord grant that I can be
A parent as fine as Dad was to me.
With a loving heart and a correcting hand
That taught me how to love and respect my fellow man.

The fear of God made you walk straight and tall
This is why we love you most of all.
Not always right, not always wrong
Oh, the spirit of God, keeps you tarrying on.

No silver or gold filled your pockets, dear,
But twenty little hands were always near.
You gave more than silver or gold
All sweet memories dear, that are untold.

Only one prayer I can whisper today
That my children one day might pray.
Oh Lord, grant that I can be
A parent as fine as mine was to me.

Family of 14 Aided by EOC and Community Agencies

Inquiries from local residents, relating to the outcome of problems which faced a Venice family whose members were found living in squalor and deprivation one week before Christmas, can be answered this week with release of a follow-up account by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission.

Articles detailing the family's hardships that appeared in two December issues of the Press-Record resulted in several donations of clothing and other items from local sources.

Victor Darnell, EOC deputy director, said the report demonstrates that cooperative efforts of several local agencies are required in order to meet the complex needs of many cases pertaining to target area families.

"To provide the necessary assistance in this specific instance," Darnell pointed out, "the Community Action Agency (Madison County EOC) was able to coordinate the activities of its own Legal Aid Service, the local hospital, the Juvenile Probation Department, the Division of Children and Family Services, Catholic Charities and individual volunteers."

Inspirational Success

The EOC official added. "When all the resources of these agencies were brought to bear on the problems of this family, things began to happen. This is only one episode in what can be called an agonizing drama. However, the success thus far achieved has inspired us all to greater effort in behalf of this family and others like it."

Darnell said awareness of the Venice family's plight came to the agency's attention when a community aide working through the Madison Neighborhood Service Center made a routine home visit to re-affirm an appointment of a mother and child at the NSC's "Well Baby Clinic."

Medical services and examinations are available to indigent families at the twice-monthly clinic, which is sponsored by the EOC with cooperation of community volunteers, registered nurses, St. Elizabeth Hospital personnel and members of the Quad-Cities Medical Society.

The community aide discovered a family group, consisting of 12 persons—three adults and nine children, living in a dilapidated unit. The report stated the head of the household, a 35-year-old woman, had eight children, including two unmarried daughters — one 19 years, the mother of two infants, 18 months and eight months, and the second, a 17-year-old girl with a 2½-month-old child.

The EOC reports continued with a description of the living quarters, "a five-room unit in a condemnable state which was rented by the family for $55 per month."

Water Standing in House

At the time of the EOC investigation, standing water, varying from one to three inches in depth, covered the floors of the dwelling and the only source of heat was supplied by a gas space heater, located in a central hallway.

Both the front and rear doors lacked hinges, with the result that neither could be completely closed. Sanitary facilities included a non-flushable toilet, unusable bathtub and clogged kitchen sink. No hot water was available.

Other household furnishings included three beds without linen, a burned-out kitchen range, an empty icebox, a couch, end table and a three-drawer bureau.

The report added that all 12 persons had less than adequate clothing for any season; especially the sub-freezing temperatures at the time of contact. Two small children had no shoes, diapers or T-shirts. No food was in the house.

The income for the entire family was $400 per month, received through Social Security benefits of the mother's deceased husband.

Only Write Reports—No Help

Darnell said that frustration and hopelessness in attitude was apparent when NSC staff members first made contact with the mother, who stated her distrust of "do gooders, who only want to write reports on me, but never help."

According to the woman, her application for assistance found her to be ineligible and a case-worker from a family and children's agency had been "working" with her for at least six months.

Through provision of services to the children at the "Well Baby Clinic" by the NSC staff, the mother began to believe the center's personnel were not "just writing reports," but were helping. Since the initial contact the woman has allowed the NSC staff to help herself in the following ways, the report further stated.

Continuous semi-monthly visits to the "Well Baby Clinic" enabled physicians to discover that one child had a minor skull concussion, suffered in an earlier fall, and possible anemia.

The latter condition was later rejected after blood tests were provided by volunteer services at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The child, formerly underweight, is now at an acceptable weight level, according to the clinic's volunteer physician.

According to the mother, a caseworker had been "working" with her for some time, but was unable to assist in helping her obtain a supplemental income grant from Public Assistance. Through the woman's own efforts, medical assistance without financial aid has now been provided for her and the family by the Children and Family Services Agency of East St. Louis.

Temporary Homes Found

The efforts of the County Juvenile Officer resulted in the immediate placement of the ten small children in temporary "foster homes," so they would not have to remain in the water-soaked unit during sub-freezing weather.

Prompt assistance to the family was furnished by staff members at the Neighborhood Service Center, 145 Madison avenue, who "adopted" several of the youngsters and purchased boots for the toddlers and formula milk and clothing for the infants.

All members of the family were outfitted with several changes of clothing from the Catholic Charities' used clothing storage in Granite City.

Consultation with the Madison county EOC's Legal Aid Services staff resulted in legal counsel advising the head of the household not to pay additional rent on the facility, but to place it in escrow pending contact with the landlord to determine his willingness to renovate the unit into decent housing.

Legal Services

Legal services also were provided to allow the mother to obtain a 30-day continuance of an attempt to have the children permanently placed in foster homes. Reunion of the mothers and children is pending relocation of the family group in adequate housing.

The EOC report also states that since adult criminal action cannot be accepted by Legal Service staff, the matter was referred to the Madison county state's attorney office for prosecution of the landlord under the Illinois statute relating to criminal management housing. To date, Darnell said, a decision on prosecution proceedings has not yet been announced by the state's attorney.

Summarizing the problems confronting the Venice family, Darnell told the Press-Record, "There are many factors which caused impoverishment of the 12 people involved. However, with cooperation of area resources — human and material—Neighborhood Service Center personnel through action rather than lip-service have established a rapport with the family that has enabled the three mothers to begin to help themselves."

Homemaker Services

The EOC official continued, "Homemaker services will be provided through the NSC staff for assistance in budget management, child - care and consumer education. The most difficult task will be finding available housing for the three separate families, who wish to remain a family group.

"This difficulty is magnified by the EOC's knowledge of the long waiting list for housing authority projects (government housing) and the reality of a subtle "closed" occupancy in this area for certain ethnic groups. Due to the committee's decision that reunion of mothers and children is contingent upon adequate housing, it is imperative that housing be located."

Darnell added, "We are thankful that the court decided not to find the three mothers "unfit" to remain in custody, merely because of conditions at the housing unit, which appeared beyond their control. If the landlord of this property is not prosecuted, as provided by Illinois law, the result inevitably will be re-rental of this unit to another impoverished family of a minority group," he concluded.

'World Outreach' Session Set Sunday

Central Christian Church will hold its second session of the School of World Outreach Sunday from 6 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Ross Halbrook, 3272 Edgewood drive, and Mrs. Harold W. Watters, 2801 Forest avenue, will be the featured speakers as they tell of their early lives in Japan.

Special empnasis will be given to customs, and holidays, with topics to be presented through a question and answer type program. A number of typical possessions will be displayed and discussed by the two speakers.

More Easements, Engineer Work Needed on Sewer

Additional engineering and the need for several easements is delaying start of the city's sanitary sewer construction in several sections of the city, it was reported to Granite City council members Monday night by Alderman Bartosiak, chairman of the Special Sewer committee.

He expressed hope the paper work would be cleared in a matter of a few days for the start of the projects under a $192,904 contract signed last week by officials of General Contracting Co., the city and the federal Housing and Urban Development agency.

Another requirement by HUD is for the city to erect signs where the project is under construction pointing out the sewer job is being built with federal and local tax dollars. Council members voted Monday night to have the signs painted and erected. The project is being financed with a $150,000 city revenue bond issue and a portion of a $1,500,000 grant of federal funds.

Mayor Partney commented that while the project presently is bogged down, he hoped it would be starting in a short time and that he plans for the city to hire an inspector with sewer construction experience through the Laborers Union.

Gas Line Problem

Bartosiak in noting the "difficulties with engineering and easements" on the sanitary sewer project said there also is a problem on the forthcoming storm water drainage system because of a 16-to-18-inch gas line where the city had hoped to place a ditch.

HUD has the project plans and has not yet indicated approval, and Bartosiak said he hoped the proposed changes will not delay the federal agency's action. "We're hoping for a March 15 call for bids," he added.

The drainage ditch is planned on Granite City Steel Co. property along East 23rd street, and it was just discovered the Mississippi River Fuel Corp. has the gas line there. To relocate the gas line would cost the city an estimated $75,000.

"The solution," Bartosiak said, "seems to be to install a concrete apron to protect the pipeline."

In other action, the council amended the $150,000 revenue bond issue ordinance to conform with interest rate bid.
